About Marshall Edwards

Marshall Edwards, Inc. (NASDAQ: MSHL) is a San Diego-based oncology company focused on the clinical development of novel anti-cancer therapeutics. These derive from an investigational isoflavone technology platform that has generated a number of compounds with anti-proliferative tumour activity. These small molecules are believed to interact with specific enzyme targets resulting in inhibition of tumour cell metabolism, a function critical for cancer cell survival. The Company's lead programs focus on two groups of compounds with related but distinct mechanisms of action. The first and most advanced is its NADH oxidase program, a family of compounds that includes triphenliol and NV-143. The second is its novel mTORC1 and mTORC2 pathway inhibitor program, which includes NV-128 and NV-344. Both programs are expected to advance into the clinic in 2011.
