ASX Release

Energy One awarded contract for services to Singapore's Senoko Energy Pte Ltd

Energy One today announced it has been nominated as a supplier of consulting services to Senoko Energy Pte Ltd (Senoko).

Senoko is Singapore's largest and most efficient power generation company, with 3,300 MW of authorised generation capacity.

Energy One will be part of a team providing specialist energy industry consulting services related to Senoko's operations and information systems. This project is part of Senoko's stated mission to be the leading energy service provider in Singapore, providing quality supply and customer services that meet the energy needs of its customers and enhance the value of their businesses.

The project is not expected to have a material financial effect on Energy One in the current or next quarter.

The company has been actively marketing its industry leading solutions and is pleased with this development. This announcement continues to demonstrate Energy One's commitment to developing and delivering quality energy products and services to major energy sector clients.
