During the year the Commercial Division progressed various projects within its $1.4 billion development pipeline¹³ as follows:-

- substantial completion of the 43,500 sqm Dick Smith distribution centre, while the 90,000 sqm Big W distribution centre at Hoxton Distribution Park, is ahead of schedule for expected completion in December 2011;

On the 28 July 2011, the 50 per cent part sale of 8 Chifley Square, Sydney via a strategic relationship with K-REIT Asia was completed.

Commenting on the divisional result, Managing Director, Nick Collishaw said, "Progress made with a number of development projects during the 2011 financial year will deliver a return to normalised financial performance for the Development Division by 2014".

"The Group remains well positioned to capitalise on its expertise in the apartment sector and is focused on capturing the demand for high density product at mid price points with projects such as Era in Chatswood, Sydney and Yarra's Edge in Melbourne."

"We have also made solid progress on projects within the commercial development pipeline and are pleased with the high level of tenant inquiry for 8 Chifley Square. Furthermore, 81.0 per cent of 10-20 Bond Street, Sydney is now committed with 59.3 per cent of the building leased," Mr Collishaw said.

ASX Release / Media Release

During the year, the Group provided $295.8 million for development inventory impairments. Mirvac continues to progress the sale of englobo non-core land in line with expectations. Pre 30 June, the Group disposed of the undeveloped land at Tennyson Reach and remains on track to reopen the Tennyson Reach sales office in January, 2012. The englobo disposal of the Magenta Shores project also settled on 12 August 2011, at the expected sale price and ahead of schedule.

CAPITAL POSITION AND FUNDING

The Group maintains a conservative capital structure as demonstrated by balance sheet gearing of 26.3 per cent¹⁴. Mirvac successfully completed the refinance of debt tranches maturing in June 2011 and January 2012 to a new $1.85 billion multicurrency facility during the year.

In line with the Group's debt strategy, the weighted average debt maturity profile increased from 2.6 to 3.8 years.

Mirvac further diversified its sources of debt funding with a $200 million medium term note ("MTN") issue in September 2010, a further $25 million in March 2011 and $50 million in April 2011.

OUTLOOK AND FY12 GUIDANCE

On the outlook for FY12 Nicholas Collishaw said, "In recognition of the continued uncertainty in financial markets the Group continues to maintain adequate levels of liquidity and conservative balance sheet gearing. Our strategy is to protect revenue streams through uncertain economic times and the Group's focus on the investment portfolio ensures that distributions will be met from stable and secure income."

"On the development side, we have fast tracked a number of development projects and made additional acquisitions which will deliver earnings in 2013 and 2014. We continue to de-risk development returns via pre-sales and expand the brand in mid price point markets. Currently, 55.8 per cent of forecast development revenue for FY12 is secured by exchanged contracts," Mr Collishaw said.

For FY12, Mirvac is forecasting operating EPS of 10.5 to 10.6 cents per security¹⁵ and DPS of 8.2 to 8.4 cents per stapled security.

COMMERCIAL MARKET OUTLOOK

Office

Weighting
57.0%¹

Management
forecast

The improvement in the labour market and white collar employment in particular has increased the demand for office space. The vacancy rate for office space has fallen, albeit erratically, since the middle of 2009, with the preference towards prime office space. Notwithstanding a likely moderation in labour demand over the ensuing six months, the low level of construction should underpin a further decline in vacancy rates.

Retail

Weighting
30.2%¹

Management
forecast

The outlook for the retail sector remains mixed. The possibility of higher interest rates and a recent softening in employment growth, together with an increase in the saving ratio has constrained consumer spending. The saving ratio will, at some stage, stop increasing, while personal income should continue to grow; all of which should stimulate spending. Against this back drop, there is expected to be little change in the average vacancy rate in the retail sector over the next six months.

Industrial

Weighting
6.4%¹

Management
forecast

Conditions in the Australian industrial market have weakened recently but are expected to begin a gradual recovery going forward. Consequently, national industrial vacancy rates are expected to tighten over the next six months.

DEVELOPMENT

WATERFRONT, NEWSTEAD, QLD

RESIDENTIAL MARKET OUTLOOK

Rising interest rates, flat house price growth and an insufficient transport system will continue to weigh on traditional house building activity. Consequently, demand is likely to remain biased towards higher density living. Even though there has been an improvement in dwelling construction, this is insufficient to keep pace with demand, further increasing the dwelling shortfall.

NSW

Weighting Forecast

29.0%¹

Dwelling construction has failed to keep pace with growth in population. This has contributed to both low dwelling vacancy rates and solid rental growth. Reflecting poor housing affordability, long commuting times to work and a changing ethnic mix, the improvement in dwelling approvals has been dominated by units and apartments, a trend which looks set to continue.

VIC

Weighting Forecast

24.8%¹

For a number of years, aided by continuing land release, state grants and robust population growth, Victoria delivered strong growth in residential construction. More recently, the strength of dwelling construction has been driven by medium density dwellings. Even though economic conditions in the state remain favourable, more moderate population growth points to a slower pace of construction activity in the future.

QLD

Weighting Forecast

27.2%¹

The Queensland residential property market has been adversely impacted by a combination of weaker interstate migration, the rising A$, a slowing in net overseas migration, soft economic conditions and natural disasters. The near-term prospects remain uninspiring but, longer term, the significant investment by the resource companies, in tandem with a pick-up in population growth, should lead to greater impetus in the state economy and the residential housing market.

WA

Weighting Forecast

19.0%¹

After significant price increases during the resources boom mark I, house prices in Perth have exhibited the greatest weakness. Additionally, the accompanying sharp slowdown in population growth reduced dwelling demand. With the second resources investment boom starting to unfold this should herald stronger dwelling demand and, with it, a firming of property prices.

This is the same project but it has suffered from a 2 year delay in construction, increasing interest costs and resulting in a negative project return.

In year 2 when the construction delays become apparent, an inventory impairment is taken to reflect the reduced net realisable value of the project.

The Inventory is not written down at the time of the impairment but a provision for loss is added to the balance sheet. This provision is released against interest costs upon settlement.
