Dear Andrew

Voluntary Suspension Request

Further to the trading halt requested on 13 July 12 the Directors of Investorfirst Ltd (ASX: INQ, 'Investorfirst', the 'Company'), hereby request a suspension in its securities with immediate effect, subject to a further announcement being made.

During the trading halt, which was requested by the Company to finalise a proposed capital raising, the Company has received an unsolicited, highly conditional, non-binding and incomplete proposal from an unrelated third party regarding an alternative funding initiative (Proposal) on more generous terms. At this stage there is no assurance that the Proposal will proceed.

The Directors are giving due consideration to this Proposal to determine what is in the best interest of all shareholders of the Company and expect to request the subsequent removal of the suspension before opening of trading on Thursday 19 July 12.

At present, Directors do not believe they have sufficiently relevant information to enable them to make a determination regarding the approach, however should this change, will advise the market accordingly.

Directors recommend that shareholders treat any related market commentary cautiously.

Investorfirst is not aware of any reason for the ASX to not grant this request.

Yours sincerely

Andrea Steele
Company Secretary
