$1.52 MILLION RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT TAX REFUND RECEIVED

Gascoyne Resources Limited (the company) is pleased to advise that it has received a research and development (R&D) tax rebate for a total of $1.52 million as a result of the company's activities at the Glenburgh Project over the 2011 – 2012 financial year.

The R&D Tax incentive provides a tax offset to support Australian companies to undertake research and development in Australia. The programme aims to:

- boost competitiveness and improve productivity across the Australian economy;
- encourage industry to conduct R&D activities that may not otherwise have been conducted;
- provide business with more predictable, less complex support; and
- improve the incentive for smaller firms to engage in R&D.

The R&D Tax Incentive is jointly administered by AusIndustry (on behalf of Innovation Australia) and the Australian Taxation Office. AusIndustry is a specialist programme delivery division within the Department of Industry, Innovation, Science, Research and Tertiary Education.

For further information please refer to the company's website or contact the company directly.
