Chairman's letter

16 July 2014

Dear Investor,

On behalf of my fellow directors, I am delighted to present this opportunity to you to become a shareholder or increase your shareholding in the Company.

iSentric Acquisition

On 25 February 2014 the Company announced its intention to transform the Company into a telecommunications based mobility business group through the acquisition of 100% of the issued share capital in iSentric Sdn Bhd (iSentric), a Malaysian technology company, currently owned by Donaco International Limited (Donaco).

We will issue $12 million of ordinary shares in the Company (Shares) (calculated at $0.20 per Share) to Donaco in consideration for the acquisition (Consideration Shares). These Consideration Shares will be distributed by Donaco to its shareholders.

We are undertaking the Offer in order to recapitalise the Company (to allow reinstatement on the Australian Securities Exchange (ASX)). In addition to undertaking the Offer and acquiring iSentric, prior to completion of the Offer it is proposed that:

- (a) the Company will consolidate its issued securities (on approximately a 3.8 to 1 basis);
- (b) 4 New Directors, associated with Donaco and iSentric, will be appointed to the Board at completion of the Share Sale Agreement. At the same time as the new Directors are appointed, Michael Doery and Gary Stewart will resign as Directors, so that the Board will have 5 members in total; and
- (c) the Company will change its name to "iSentric Limited" to align the Company with its new business focus post completion of the Share Sale Agreement.

Further details of the Share Sale Agreement, including conditions precedent to completion, are set out in Section 8.1.

At completion of the Offer, Lim Keong Yew (a New Director) may control up to 41.7% of the Company (see Section 3.3 for further details).

At the date of this Prospectus the Company's assets are limited to its shareholding in Starfield Metals Limited.

Upon completion of the Offer, the Company will focus its activities on the mobile telecommunications and technology business currently conducted by iSentric (see Section 2 for further details). Key risks to the Company's new business focus are detailed in Section 7; they include changes in general economic or political conditions, movements in currency or interest rates and the loss of key employees or contracts with key customers.

No guarantee can be given in respect of the future earnings of the Company or the earnings and capital appreciation of the Company's investments. Investors should consider the risks detailed in Section 7 carefully when assessing an investment in the Company.

Offer

Under this Prospectus, the Company is inviting investors to subscribe for a maximum of 10,000,000 Shares at an offer price of $0.20 per Share to raise up to $2,000,000, with a Minimum Subscription of $1,000,000.

Detailed information regarding the Offer, the operations of iSentric, as well as potential risks of investing in the new Shares, are outlined in this Prospectus.

I encourage you to read the Prospectus in its entirety before making a decision to invest.

Yours Faithfully

What is the Business model	Through iSentric, the Company will provide software based mobility platforms and services that enable its customers to extend their information technology applications to any mobile device and	Section 2

of the Company?	integrate mobile technology throughout their existing business. iSentric also works with telecommunication network providers to provide mobile OTT (over-the-top) services that leverage their subscriber base to build active communities. iSentric operates in the mobile services industry through three main divisions: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Digital Payments - a mobile payment platform that enable consumers to make small financial transactions; • Enterprise Mobility - a platform that delivers mobile connectivity, messaging and mobile banking to corporate clients; and • Digital Content and Services - which consists of an online mobile content aggregation platform and a proprietary game publishing network offering online games, mobile games, news and events. These divisions are summarised in Section 2.6.
What are the Company's objectives?	The objectives are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • the continuation and development of the services currently offered by iSentric; and • if appropriate targets can be identified, the acquisition of existing mobile telecommunications or technology businesses currently operating in the Asia-Pacific region. 	Sections 2.6 and 2.8
Key Strengths of iSentric	Enterprise Development <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The core competency of the iSentric business lies with its enterprise-level technical development capabilities; and • iSentric's systems are robust, secure, scalable and highly effective. Solid Financials <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Good cash flows, strong cash position. Strategic Partnerships <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Able to forge strong, beneficial partnerships with a diverse range of blue chip names like Celcom Axiata and Huawei; and • These partnerships have contributed to higher revenues, cost savings and expansion opportunities. Diversified Interests <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Diverse, cash flow positive business units. Large community of users <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A ready database of users that can be easily leveraged for the marketing of new services. 	Section 2

Key investment risks	Key risks relevant to an investment in iSentric include: Competition risk - The industry in which the Company will be involved is subject to domestic and global competition. While the Company will undertake all reasonable diligence in its business decisions and operations, the Company will have no influence or control over the activities or actions of its competitors, which activities or actions may, positively or negatively, affect the operating and financial performance of the Company's business. Reliance on key personnel - Skilled employees and consultants are essential to the successful delivery of the Company's strategy. Upon changing the nature and scale of its activities, the Company will rely to a large extent on the services of certain key management personnel, particularly certain of its Malaysian nationals who will manage day to day interactions with contractors and regulatory authorities, the loss of any of which could delay the pursuit of the Company's strategy. The Company will not maintain key-man life insurance with respect to any of its employees. Laws and regulations - The laws and regulations in Malaysia differ to those that exist in Australia. Laws may unexpectedly change, and could have an impact on the operational activities of the Company in Malaysia. While iSentric has operated successfully within the Malaysian legal and regulatory environment, unforeseen changes could materially impact the operating results of the Company. Project and technology obsolescence – iSentric's business is technology dependent. iSentric's business is subject to the risk of product and technology obsolescence. For example: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • each piece of content (graphics, games, songs, videos, news, etc) released by iSentric's Digital Content & Services Division has a finite lifespan in terms of its attractiveness to consumers from the moment it is introduced into the market. Once this lifespan is over, these pieces of content generally do not have any more commercial value; • the Enterprise Mobility Division relies in part on mobile subscription services. New technologies that work outside such services (eg. Over-The-Top communication services (like WhatsApp and Facebook Messenger) could impact the volume of SMS' sent through iSentric's mobility2u platform; and • payment through direct operator billing offered by iSentric's Digital Payments Division could be impacted by other technologies such as mobile or virtual wallets and near field communication (NFC) enabled handsets. Control and liquidity risk - At completion of the Offer, Lim Keong Yew (a New Director) may control up to 41.7% of the Company (see Section 3.3 for further details). If Lim Keong Yew controls 41.7% of the Company he will have the ability to block special resolutions (requiring 75% approval). The voting power held by Lim Keong Yew may reduce the attractiveness of the Company to potential acquirers and cause Shares to become illiquid. Furthermore, there is no guarantee that there will be an ongoing liquid market for Shares. If illiquidity arises, there is a risk that Shareholders will be unable to realise their investment in the Company. Further details are set out in Section 7.	Section 7

On 9 May 2014, the Company has entered into the Share Sale Agreement pursuant to which the Company will acquire all of the shares in iSentric. A summary of the Share Sale Agreement is set out in Section 8.1. At completion of the Share Sale Agreement:

 - (i) the Share consolidation (this is to ensure its Shares meet the minimum price requirements required under the Listing Rules); and
 - (ii) the Offer (this is to ensure it has the minimum number of Shareholders required under Chapters 1 and 2 of the Listing Rules).

It is expected that the Sale Share Agreement will complete on the same day Shares are issued under the Prospectus (currently expected to be on 5 September 2014).

Full details regarding the resolutions to be considered by Shareholders at the General Meeting are set out in the Shareholders Booklet dated 16 July 2014 and released to the ASX on the same date.

2.3. Change in focus to iSentric business

The Directors believe that the iSentric Acquisition and Offer will provide a solid financial foundation for the future, as well as a capital base that will allow the Company to take advantage of a wider range of attractive investment opportunities in the Asia-Pacific market.

Upon completion of the Share Sale Agreement, the Company proposes to focus its activities on the mobile telecommunications and technology business currently conducted by iSentric. The Company currently intends to do this through:

- (a) the continuation and development of the services currently offered by iSentric (see Sections 2.6, 2.8 and 2.13 for further details); and
- (b) if appropriate targets can be identified, the acquisition of existing mobile telecommunications or technology businesses currently operating in the Asia-Pacific region (see Section 2.13 for further details).

To align the Company with its new business focus, the Company will change its name to "iSentric Limited". In addition, following completion of the Sale Share Agreement, the Company currently intends to:

- (a) raise capital as and when the Board considers necessary. The Company has no present intention of raising additional capital; and
- (b) review the Company's shareholding in Starfield Metals Limited and assess whether this investment should be retained or sold.

2.4. Overview of the industry in which iSentric operates iSentric is a mobile telecommunications and technology company that currently operates in Malaysia only.

Malaysian telecommunications market

The mobile subscription penetration rate in Malaysia reached 143.7% in 2014 (based on a population of approximately 30 million people). This is an indicator of the maturity of the Malaysian "mobile market" and implies that a large proportion of its population has access to mobile broadband and other value added services.

There are currently 43 million individual mobile subscriptions in Malaysia, the majority of which (approximately 35 million or 81% of the mobile market customer base) are prepaid subscriptions. iSentric takes advantage of this high proportion of prepaid mobile users through services offered by its Digital Content and Service division (see Section 2.6(c) and 2.13(b) for further details).

iSentric's primary business activities are currently focused on the following segments of the Malaysian telecommunications industry:

- Mobile Value Added Services (VAS); and
- Mobile Messaging Services.

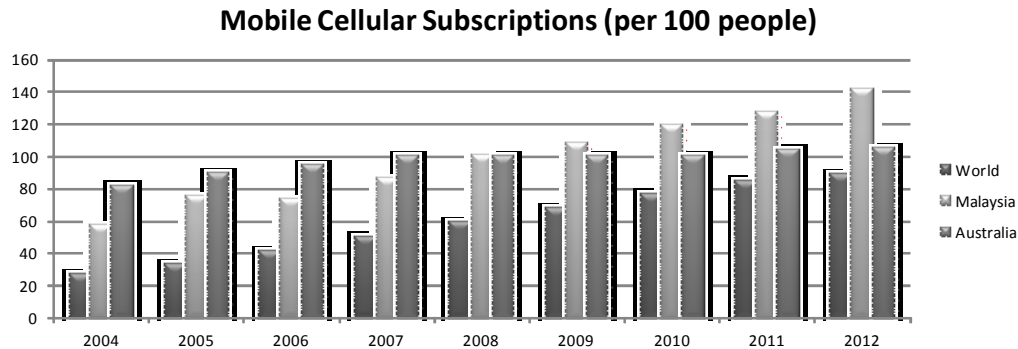

Mobile Value Added Services Overview

Mobile VAS are non-core services that are offered in addition to standard voice calls and messaging services contained in a basic mobile service subscription. Third party service providers who have network connections and billing arrangements with the operators provide many of these services. Mobile operators leverage on these services to:

- (a) differentiate their service offerings; and
- (b) develop additional revenue streams to increase average revenue per user (ARPU).

Globally, mobile user growth has increased significantly, as demonstrated by the three-fold increase in mobile cellular subscriptions between 2004 and 2012. At present, the mobile services industries in East Asia and Pacific are widely considered one of the fastest growing on a global scale.

As can be seen in the graph below, Malaysian mobile cellular usage in the period between 2004 and 2012 grew at a faster rate than the global average. iSentric is of the belief that the Malaysian Mobile VAS market moves in tandem with the growth of mobile cellular subscriptions, hence it is also in a growth phase.

Mobile Messaging Services Overview

Mobile messaging refers to text messages sent to, and between mobile phones. It can be broadly segmented into 2 categories, namely Cellular Network based Messaging (SMS, MMS) and Mobile Instant Messaging (MIM) which consists of text messages sent through 3rd party Over-The-Top (OTT) applications such as WhatsApp, Viber, WeChat and Facebook Messenger. iSentric's Management has observed that in some markets, such as South Korea and the Netherlands, OTT messaging has reached such a high level that it is causing a material threat to SMS volumes and revenues.

However, as compared to the technicalities and relative complexities involved in using OTT messaging applications (e.g. availability of smartphone, adoption of a particular OTT application among users), the simplicity and ubiquity of SMS functionality in every single mobile phone ever produced makes it a preferred platform for mass communication functions such as enterprise bulk messaging, SMS advertising campaigns, and alerts. According to data reviewed by iSentric's management, although global SMS revenue is expected to stagnate and decline in 2014, it is still worth more than USD 100 billion worldwide.

2.5. Overview of the iSentric business

2.6. iSentric business and key services

iSentric is a mobility services company that offers mobile content distribution, mobile payment aggregation, mobile banking and bespoke corporate mobility solutions.

Business Unit	Percentage of revenue
Digital Payments	64%
Enterprise Mobility	32%
Digital Contents & Services	4%

Note: Approximate percentages based on revenue for financial year ended 30 May 2013

iSentric's current business operations are split into 3 divisions:

- (a) Digital Payments: Digital Payments is a “business-to-business” (B2B) payments aggregation service that enables mobile subscribers to pay for services from merchants by effecting micropayments (financial transactions for small amounts) over a secure mobile platform. This micropayment is usually charged to a mobile subscriber's mobile subscription, whether prepaid or postpaid. It covers a comprehensive range of mobile payment channels including premium SMS, MMS, WAP Charging, and USSD.

iSentric works closely with telecommunications companies like Maxis, Huawei, Celcom and DiGi, to assist its clients to:

- (i) set up their mobile payment infrastructure; and
- (ii) provide marketing resources and strategies to help clients promote a variety of mobile-centric content.

- (b) Enterprise Mobility: iSentric's Enterprise Mobility services deliver bespoke, B2B mobile connectivity and messaging capabilities to clients from a wide range of industries through iSentric's mobility2u platform. These services include:

- (i) Digital messaging services to online and mobile devices (including feature phones, smartphones and personal computers). Relying predominantly on SMS and MMS channels, mobility2u is able to support the delivery of multimedia formats such as text, pictures, audio and videos. In addition, through mobility2u iSentric offers mobile marketing campaign tools, such as premium SMS billing, 2-way SMS messaging, interactive voice responses and mobile messaging analytics.
- (ii) Mobile banking services that allow customers to check bank balances, pay bills, and make secure mobile payments. iSentric is one of the largest mobile banking providers in Malaysia with 10 financial institutions utilising iSentric's services. iSentric's customers include Citibank, CIMB, AIG, RHB and AmBank.

- (c) Digital Content and Services: iSentric's digital content services creates, aggregates and markets premium mobile content via a B2B2C model, in which content is sourced from various established partners and targeted towards mobile subscribers through proprietary platforms, including:

- (i) “MARIKU”, an online mobile lifestyle and entertainment portal that enables consumers to subscribe to or purchase and download, various types of mobile content and services (e.g. multimedia content, infotainment services, mobile applications); and
- (ii) “mobilityGames”, a proprietary digital game publishing platform that is designed to work in conjunction with mobile telecommunications operators in terms of marketing and billing. mobilityGames offers the latest in online games, mobile games, news and events sourced from a range of established game developers and publishers.

2.7. iSentric's historical financial performance

Details of iSentric's historical financial performance are set out in Section 4.

2.8. Business model and revenue streams

This Section explains iSentric's business model and revenue streams for each of its 3 main divisions.

(a) Digital Payments Division

The Digital Payments multichannel aggregation platform (known as MobilityPay) is targeted towards telecommunication companies in Malaysia, such as Maxis, Digi, Celcom, Huawei and iPay88.

Approximately 87% of the division's revenue is derived from direct operator billing for transactions made through the MobilityPay platform. The remaining 13% of the division's revenue is generated by managed services in which a fixed fee is paid for managing the digital payment infrastructure on behalf of a client.

The key risk to this division is product and technology obsolescence (e.g. payment through direct operator billing could be impacted by other technologies such as mobile or virtual wallets and NFC enabled handsets). iSentric believes that direct operator billing is still very relevant in the short to medium term as other mobile payment channels/technologies are still in their infancy in Malaysia due to the large amount of investment required to deploy a sizeable payment infrastructure to support other types of mobile payment transactions, and to educate the market on these alternatives. In addition, the modular design of the MobilityPay platform makes it capable of adapting to significant trends within the digital payment industry. iSentric therefore feels that the obsolescence risks can be mitigated.

(b) Enterprise Mobility Division

The Enterprise Mobility platform ('mobility2u') is a business-to-business platform offered to corporate clients and the financial services industry.

Revenue is earned from licensing the mobility2U platform to clients on an annual basis (approximately 11% of the division's revenue), on a project consultancy basis with projects usually running for three years and then rolling (approximately 12% of the division's revenue), and through transactional fees from digital messaging (approximately 77% of the division's revenue), whereby clients are charged a fee for each message successfully sent. Transactional fees are structured using a cost plus model, where a margin is inserted on top of the cost per message (usually dictated by telecommunications operators).

The key risks to the division are:

- (i) technology obsolescence (eg. Over-The-Top communication services (like WhatsApp and Facebook Messenger) which do not rely on a mobile subscription service to operate could potentially impact the volume of SMS sent through the mobility2u platform); and
- (ii) regulatory changes (e.g. The Malaysian Communications and Multimedia Commission, the regulatory body for the governance of the mobile industry in Malaysia could potentially introduce more restrictive privacy policies that could restrict advertising activities through SMS and other mobile channels).

To mitigate these risks, iSentric routinely leverages on its expertise in enterprise development to continually upgrade and evolve its product offerings in response to competitive threats and technology. iSentric also maintains a strong compliance regime to ensure all services adhere to Government regulations and has a constant dialogue with the Malaysia regulator to ensure that it is aware of any future influences or potential changes to regulations.

(c) Digital Content & Services Division

Digital Content & Services platforms generate revenue through transactional fees.

The Digital Content & Services division operates at a high margin and is considered an important area for future revenue growth. Transactional fees are earned through iSentric's online business-to-consumer digital content entertainment portal ('MARIKU') from mobile subscribers accessed through Malaysian telecommunications networks.

Transaction fees are also earned from iSentric's telco-centric game publishing network ('mobilityGames') by licensing online and mobile games from other countries and reselling them in Malaysia.

The key risk to this division is product obsolescence. Each piece of content (graphics, games, songs, videos, news, etc) on these platforms has a finite lifespan in terms of its attractiveness to consumers from the moment it is introduced into the market. Once this lifespan is over, these pieces of content generally do not have any more commercial value. A key management strategy is to maintain a steady pipeline of content from a number of different sources and to actively match the content as closely as possible to observed market trends.

2.9. Competitive Landscape

The market for iSentric's 3 divisions is highly fragmented, rapidly evolving, and intensely competitive, and iSentric expects these characteristics to continue and increase.

iSentric's success is highly dependent upon the timely introduction of new products, technologies and features at competitive prices and performance levels that address changing industry trends and the evolving needs of our customers.

iSentric believes that the industry may undergo a significant wave of mergers and acquisitions, driven in particular by the need for consolidation of smaller players to achieve economies of scale in order to avoid failing, especially those that are under-capitalized.

2.10. Key Competitors

Key competitors for iSentric are as follows:

Company	Business Activities – competition by business unit	Regional Presence
M3 Technologies (Asia) Berhad	Focused on the enterprise sector competing with Digital Payments and Enterprise Mobility	Malaysia, Thailand, Indonesia, HK, China & Pakistan
MNC Wireless Berhad	Focused on the advertising & media sector competing with Digital Content and Services	Malaysia
Nextnation Communication Berhad	Focused on the entertainment sector competing with Digital Content and Services	Malaysia & Indonesia

2.11. Barriers to Entry

Any new entrant may participate in the Malaysian mobile telecommunications and technology industry by securing an operating license from the Malaysian regulator. However it is challenging for any new entrant to establish economies of scale required to operate in the competitive business environment. The Company believe high acquisition costs for new customers, brand building exercises and development of operational technology platform takes time. The enterprise sector especially requires high initial investment to establish a reliable and proven platform for corporate customers.

The Company management believe that any new entrant would need to have access to substantial financial resources to fund and sustain a new business to compete with iSentric in Malaysia.

2.12. Competitive Advantage

The Company believe iSentric's competitive advantage is its ability to identify and capitalise on significant trends that occur within what is a very dynamic industry. The Company believes that iSentric is well positioned to capture and leverage on future growth opportunities in view of its key strengths:

- Core competencies in Enterprise Development
- Proven Financial Track Record
- Sound and Experienced Management Team
- Diversified Business Portfolio
- Strategic Partnerships and Alliances in Technology, Content and Product Distribution
- Large database of mobile users.

2.13. Growth Strategy

iSentric's medium term growth strategy is twofold, namely:

- executing strategic mergers and acquisitions, and
- developing the Telecommunications "Over-The-Top" (OTT) model with mobile network operators within the South East Asian region.

These 2 strategies are described below

(a) Strategic Mergers and Acquisitions

The Company believes that the Malaysian Mobile VAS industry is primed for a measure of consolidation. The focus of iSentric's M&A strategy is to grow horizontally across South East Asia, and to acquire specific skill sets and technologies to strengthen its Digital Payment and Digital Content & Services divisions.

The Company will seek to identify mobile telecommunications and technology businesses it considers to be valued below their intrinsic values and those that offer the potential of being positively influenced by iSentric's management team taking an active role in business operations. The Company will seek to leverage the skill and knowledge of iSentric's management team to pursue acquisitions that widen its footprint across South East Asia, leveraging its existing relationships.

(b) Telecommunications OTT Strategy

In the past, operators were focused on offering exclusive, walled garden mobile services to their own community of subscribers. However, OTT service providers are now threatening the traditional revenues and relevance of the telecommunications companies. OTT services such as WhatsApp, Facebook Messenger, Skype, YouTube, iTunes AppStore and Google Play are spurring the telecommunications companies to react with various strategies and initiatives to address this challenge.

The Company believes that iSentric is in a strong position to work with telecommunications companies in South East Asia to enhance and execute their OTT strategies through the implementation of a Telecommunications Operator OTT service model that leverages on cellular network based billing and marketing resources of telecommunications operators. This service model targets and reaches out to selected online niches (e.g. Mobile games, Islamic fashion, independent music, etc), providing attractive online and mobile services to these users, regardless of their mobile subscription. This is attractive to telecommunications companies as is expected to:

- increase average revenue per user (ARPU) of existing subscriber bases;

- provide for the collection of data for further analytics;
- provide clients with opportunities for better targeted marketing; and
- expand subscribers.

The Asia Pacific region commands 48% of the global mobile games market worth approximately USD12 billion. Having identified this niche, iSentric has already begun to implement the telecommunications operator OTT service model with a large Malaysian telecommunications company using MobilityGames as the primary platform. Once the business has proven successful in Malaysia, iSentric intends to leverage its strategic partnerships to expand this service model across South East Asia.

3. Impact of the Offer

3.1. Purpose of Offer and use of funds

A maximum of $2,000,000 will be raised under the Offer. The Directors intend to use the funds raised under the Offer to fund the costs associated with this Prospectus and for working capital purposes. Working capital will be applied by the Company as the Directors see fit in accordance with the intentions set out in Section 2.3 and Section 2.13.

If the Offer is fully subscribed, the effect on the Company would be as follows:

- (a) the number of Shares on issue will increase by 10,000,000 Shares to approximately 76,750,000 Shares; and
- (b) the cash reserves of the Company will increase by approximately $2,000,000 (before costs of the Offer).

3.2. Capital Structure

The indicative table presented below has been prepared to illustrate the Company's capital structure after completion of the Offer and the transactions described above. The information in the table is indicative only, and is subject to change. Any changes to the table will be notified to market.

Class of securities	Number of securities
Shares	76,750,000
Options	3,000,000

Notes:

The above table assumes the following:

1. 600 convertible notes are issued and converted into Shares at the same time Shares are issued under the Offer;
2. the number of Shares is reduced under the consolidation from 14,134,977 Shares to approximately 3,750,000 Shares (the exact number of Shares on issue following the consolidation will depend on rounding);
3. the Company raises $2,000,000 under the Offer;
4. 60,000,000 Shares are issued to Donaco at completion of the Share Sale Agreement; and
5. Options issued to convertible note holders have not been exercised.

3.3. Control of the Company after the Offer

The Company currently has 5 substantial shareholders: Fullerton Private Capital Pty Limited (with voting power of 8.35%), Norfolk Enchants Pty Ltd ATF Trojan Retirement Fund (with voting power of 6.71%), Mr and Mrs McMillan (with voting power of 5.60%) and Klip Pty Ltd ATF Beirne Super Fund (with voting power of 5.33%).

Immediately after completion of the Share Sale Agreement and Offer, the Company is likely to have 3 substantial shareholders¹, being:

- Donaco, whose voting power will be approximately 78.2%,
- Jox Holdings whose voting power will be up to 6.5% (assuming Jox Holdings is entitled to participate in the Offer and is issued 5,000,000 Shares); and
- Lim Keong Yew, who as the controller of Jox Holdings will have a relevant interest in the Shares issued to Jox Holdings under the Offer and will therefore have voting power of up to 6.5% (assuming Jox Holdings is entitled to participate in the Offer and is issued 5,000,000 Shares).

If Jox Holdings does not participate in the Offer, the Company will only have 1 substantial shareholder at completion of the Share Sale Agreement and Offer, being Donaco.

¹ This assumes that none of the Company's current substantial shareholders participate in the Offer.

Immediately following completion of the Offer, Donaco will have the ability to individually block special resolutions (requiring 75% approval) put to Shareholders and carry both ordinary (requiring 50% approval) and special resolutions.

Donaco does not intend to retain any interest in the Company and will distribute 100% of the Consideration Shares to its shareholders under an in specie distribution (Distribution). At completion of the Distribution, Donaco's voting power in the Company will be reduced to 0%. At this point in time, the Company is likely to have a minimum of 5 substantial shareholders, being:

- (a) Jox Holdings who, as a result of its participation in the Offer, will hold voting power of up to 6.5%;
- (b) Slim Twinkle who, as a result of the Distribution, will hold voting power of up to 14.3%;
- (c) Convent Fine who, as a result of the Distribution, will hold voting power of up to 15.3%;
- (d) Lim Keong Hoe, who will have a relevant interest in the Shares transferred to Slim Twinkle and Convent Fine under the Distribution, and will hold voting power of up to 29.6%; and
- (e) Lim Keong Yew, who will be transferred Shares under the Distribution², and will have a relevant interest in the following Shares:
 - (i) the Shares acquired by Jox Holdings under the Offer, will hold voting power of up to 6.5%; and
 - (ii) the Shares transferred to Slim Twinkle and Convent Fine under the Distribution, will hold voting power of up to 29.6%;

as a result of which will hold voting power of up to 41.7%.

Control transactions to be implemented following the Distribution

The Company understands that after the Distribution, two Donaco Shareholders controlled by Lim Keong Hoe and Lim Keong Yew, Slim Twinkle and Convent Fine, have informed the Company that they intend to dispose of the Shares that they respectively receive under the Distribution (Slim Twinkle and Convent Fine intends to transfer 100% of these Shares to Jox Holdings). The Company understands that Jox Holdings will pay $0.20 per Share in consideration for the Shares. The Shares will be transferred to Jox Holdings off-market. Transfers to Jox Holdings are conditional on Shareholder approval.

When trading in Shares recommences on the ASX Lim Keong Yew is likely to hold a maximum voting power of 41.7%.

This voting power is calculated based on the number of Shares that Lim Keong Yew will receive personally under the Distribution (representing a voting power of 5.6%) and the number of Shares acquired by Jox Holdings (an entity that is controlled by Lim Keong Yew and therefore Lim Keong Yew's associate) under the Offer and the above transfers (representing a maximum voting power of 36.1%).

² These Shares represent voting power of 5.6%.

4.1. Introduction

This section of the Prospectus contains a summary of the financial information that the Directors consider relevant to potential investors.

All financial information presented in this Section should be read in conjunction with the assumptions and pro-forma transactions set out in Section 4.3, the summary of significant accounting policies set out in Section 4.5, and the Investigating Accountant's Report set out in Section 5.

4.2. Historical financial information

Since 27 October 2010 at which time the Company was wholly effectuated from the Deed of Company Arrangement, it has not operated a business. Accordingly, the Company does not consider that Historic Statements of Profit or Loss and Other Comprehensive Income, Historic Statements of Cash Flows and Historic Statements of Financial Position for the Company are relevant for the purposes of this document.

iSentric has historically been profitable. The following table contains a historical summary of iSentric's profit and loss statements based on iSentric's unqualified audited accounts Crowe Horwath (Firm No: AF 1018) (based in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia), prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) and with respect to the current financial year, the unaudited management accounts of iSentric. The profit and loss statement summary has been prepared to illustrate the historical financial performance of iSentric. Past performance of iSentric is not indicative of the future performance of the Company post completion of the Offer.

Notes:

- The column headed "OMI Actual 31 December 2013" is a summary balance sheet of the Company based on the auditor reviewed balance sheet of the Company as at 31 December 2013.
- The column headed "Pro forma A" is the auditor reviewed balance sheet of the Company as at 31 December 2013 adjusted as if the following had taken place on 31 December 2013:
 - completion of the Share Sale Agreement and Offer;
 - Increase in cash and cash equivalents assumes the Company issued 600 convertible notes convertible into 3,000,000 Shares, raising $600,000. Additionally assumes $2,000,000 has been raised by the Company via the Offer.
 - Investments increased by $12,000,000 representing the value of the Consideration Shares to be issued in consideration for iSentric. The value of the Consideration Shares and iSentric was determined following negotiations between the Directors of the Company and the directors of Donaco.
 - Trade and other payables include costs associated with the Share Sale Agreement and Offer. These costs include a capital raising fee, legal fees, accounting and taxation advisory fee, ASX listing fees, an independent expert report and corporate advisory fees of roughly $420,000.
- The column headed "iSentric Actual 31 December 2013" is a summary balance sheet of iSentric based on the auditor reviewed balance sheet of iSentric as at 31 December 2013. All amounts have been converted into Australian dollars at the rate MYR/AUD 0.342 (the applicable exchange rate as at 31 December 2013).
- The iSentric Acquisition is a reverse acquisition because iSentric is the larger entity and because the former shareholder of iSentric, namely Donaco, will hold a majority of the Company's Shares immediately after completion of the acquisition (although these will be distributed to Donaco's shareholders soon after completion of the iSentric Acquisition). As a reverse acquisition, iSentric is considered to be "the acquirer" and the Company is considered to be "the acquiree" for accounting purposes. As the Company will not include an active business at the date of the acquisition, the acquisition is not a business combination. Instead the iSentric Acquisition is accounted for as follows:
 - the consolidated financial statements of the Company are presented as a continuation of the financial statements of iSentric;
 - the assets and liabilities of iSentric are measured at existing carrying values;
 - the assets and liabilities of the Company are measured at fair value;
 - the excess of the deemed acquisition cost over the fair value of the assets and liabilities of OMI is treated as a cost of obtaining a listing and recorded as an expense.

Consideration transferred (based on the value of shares that iSentric would have needed to issue to obtain 21.8% of Shares on issue in the Company, as Donaco will hold the remaining 78.2%)	4,042,000
Estimated fair value of net assets of the Company:	2,373,000
Cost of the listing	1,669,000
Estimated portion of transaction costs that relates to the iSentric Acquisition	320,000
Total cost of listing (included as an expense in profit or loss)	1,989,000

- The column headed "Pro Forma "B" (Consolidated)" is the unaudited pro forma balance sheet for the Company (post completion of the Offer) based on Pro forma A and the auditor reviewed balance sheet of iSentric as at 31 December 2013, adjusted to reflect each of the consolidation adjustments detailed in the column headed "Consolidation Adjustments".

4.4. Forecasts

The Company has given careful consideration as to whether a reasonable basis exists to produce reliable and meaningful forecast financial information in relation to the Company following completion of the Offer. The Company has included forecast consolidated income for 30 June 2014 (see the consolidated income statement table below).

The Board has concluded that any additional forecast financial information would be misleading to provide, as a reasonable basis does not exist for producing forecasts that would be sufficiently meaningful and reliable, particularly considering:

- the Company maintains contracts with customers, however these contracts provide only for service delivery and the exclusive nature of the services. The delivery of services under these contracts vary from month to month and it is therefore difficult to forecast revenue;
- A number of contracts expire or are due for renewal in the 12 months prior to June 2015. Whilst the Company has been able to re-negotiate or roll contracts in prior periods, there is no assurance that this may be the case going forward;
- iSentric has a strategy to make acquisitions as part of its business plan; whilst no target has been determined any acquisition is likely to impact the Company's performance; and
- the diversity of the businesses proposed to be acquired and factors outside the control of the Company that may have an effect on the future financial position of the Company following the Offer.

3. June represents management forecast for the month.
4. iSentric has a tax free status with the Malaysian Government, accordingly there is no tax expense or refund.

4.5. Significant Accounting Policies

A summary of significant accounting policies which have been adopted in the preparation of the unaudited pro forma Statements of Financial Positions set out in Section 4.3 and which will be adopted and applied in preparation of the financial statements of the Company for the year ended 30 June 2014 and subsequent years is set out as follows:

Notes to the Pro-Forma Financial Information

The financial information has been prepared in accordance with the measurement, but not all of the disclosure requirements, of Australian Accounting Standards and Urgent Issues Group Consensus Views. In the view of the Directors the omitted disclosure would not provide further relevant information to potential investors.

Principles of Consolidation

A controlled entity is any entity controlled by OMI. Control exists where OMI has the capacity to dominate the decision-making in relation to the financial and operating policies of another entity so that the other entity operates with OMI to achieve the objectives of OMI.

All inter-company balances and transactions between entities in the economic entity, including any unrealised profits or losses, have been eliminated on consolidation. Accounting policies of subsidiaries have been changed where necessary to ensure consistency with those policies applied by the parent entity.

Where controlled entities have entered or left the economic entity during the year, their operating results have been included from the date control was obtained or until the date control ceased.

Business Combinations

A business combination occurs when acquirer obtains control over one or more businesses.

A business combination is accounted for by applying the acquisition method, unless it is a combination involving entities or business under common control. The business combination will be accounted for from the date that control is attained, whereby the fair value of the identifiable assets acquired and liabilities (including contingent liabilities) assumed is recognised (subject to certain limited exemptions).

When measuring the consideration transferred in the business combination, any asset or liability resulting from a contingent consideration arrangement is also included. Subsequent to initial recognition, contingent consideration classified as equity is not remeasured and its subsequent settlement is accounted for within equity. Contingent consideration classified as an asset or liability is remeasured in each reporting period to fair value, recognising any change to fair value in profit or loss, unless the change in value can be identified as existing at acquisition date.

All transaction costs incurred in relation to the business combinations, other than associated with the issue of a financial instrument, are recognised as expenses in profit or loss when occurred.

Goodwill

Goodwill is carried at cost less any accumulated impairment losses. Goodwill is calculated as the excess of the sum of:

- the consideration transferred;
- any non-controlling interest;
- the acquisition date fair value of any previous held equity interest;

over the acquisition date fair value of net identifiable assets acquired.

Goodwill on acquisition of subsidiaries is included in intangible assets.

Goodwill is tested for impairment annually and is allocated to the Group's cash generating units or groups, representing the lowest level at which goodwill is monitored being not larger than an operating segment. Gains and losses on the disposal of an entity include the carrying amount of goodwill related to the entity disposed of.

Revenue Recognition

Revenue from the rendering of a service or delivery of goods is recognised upon the delivery of the service or goods to the customers, which is the date of transfer of risks and rewards.

Interest Income

Interest revenue is recognised on a proportional basis taking into account the interest rates applicable to the financial assets. All revenue is stated net of the amount of goods and services tax (GST), if applicable.

Income Tax

The income tax expense (credit) for the year comprises current income tax expense (credit) and deferred tax expense (credit).

Current income tax expense charged to the profit or loss is the tax payable on taxable income. Current tax liabilities (assets) are measured at the amounts expected to be paid to (recovered from) the relevant taxation authority.

Deferred income tax expense reflects movements in deferred tax asset and deferred tax liability balances during the year as well as unused tax losses.

Current and deferred income tax expense (credit) is charged or credited outside profit or loss when the tax relates to items that are recognised outside profit or loss.

Except for business combinations, no deferred income tax is recognised from the initial recognition of an asset or liability where there is no effect on accounting or taxable profit or loss.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are calculated at the tax rates that are expected to apply to the period when the asset is realised or the liability is settled and their measurement also reflects the manner in which management expects to recover or settle the carrying amount of the related asset or liability.

Deferred tax assets relating to temporary differences and unused tax losses are recognised only to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the benefits of the deferred tax asset can be utilised.

Where temporary differences exist in relation to investments in subsidiaries, branches, associates, and joint ventures, deferred tax assets and liabilities are not recognised where the timing of the reversal of the temporary difference can be controlled and it is not probable that the reversal will occur in the foreseeable future.

Current tax assets and liabilities are offset where a legally enforceable right of set-off exists and it is intended that net settlement or simultaneous realisation and settlement of the respective asset and liability will occur. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset where: (a) a legally enforceable right of set-off exists; and (b) the deferred tax assets and liabilities relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority on either the same taxable entity or different taxable entities where it is intended that net settlement or simultaneous realisation and settlement of the respective asset and liability will occur in future periods in which significant amounts of deferred tax assets or liabilities are expected to be recovered or settled.

Malaysian taxation

The iSentric has been granted the MSC Malaysia Status, which qualifies iSentric for the Pioneer Status Incentive under the Promotion of Investment Act, 1986.

The Company enjoys full exemption from income tax on the qualifying activities for the first 5 years from 1 July 2004 to 30 June 2009 and subsequently granted another 5 years from 1 July 2009 to 30 June 2014. The pioneer status expires on 30 June 2014, after which iSentric's taxable income is subject to tax at the rate of 25%.

Tax consolidation

OMI Holdings Limited and its wholly-owned Australian subsidiaries are part of a tax consolidation group under Australian taxation law. OMI Holdings Limited is the head entity in the tax consolidation group.

Current tax liabilities and assets and deferred tax assets arising from unused tax losses and tax credits of the members of the tax-consolidated group are recognised by the head entity in the tax-consolidated group. Deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are measured by reference to the carrying amounts of the assets and liabilities in the consolidated entity's statement of financial position and their tax values applying under tax consolidation.

The head entity, in conjunction with other members of the tax-consolidated group, entered into a tax funding arrangement which sets out the funding obligations of members of the tax-consolidated group in respect of tax amounts. The tax funding arrangements require payments to/from the head entity equal to the current tax liability/receivable assumed by the head entity and any tax-loss deferred tax asset assumed by the head entity, resulting in the head entity recognising an inter-entity receivable (payable) equal in amount to the tax liability (asset) assumed. The inter-company receivable (payable) are at call. Contributions to fund current tax liabilities are payable in accordance with the tax funding arrangement and reflect the timing of the head entity's obligation to make payments for tax liabilities to the relevant tax authorities.

The head entity in conjunction with other members of the tax-consolidation group also entered into a tax sharing agreement. The tax sharing agreement provides for the determination of the allocation of income tax liabilities between the entities should the head entity default on its tax payment obligations.

Property, Plant and Equipment

Property, plant and equipment are measured on the cost basis less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses.

The cost of fixed assets constructed within the economic entity includes the cost of materials, direct labour, borrowing costs and an appropriate proportion of fixed and variable overheads.

Depreciation is recognised so as to write off the cost of assets.

The depreciable amount of all fixed assets is depreciated using the straight line method over their useful lives to the economic entity commencing from the time the asset is held ready for use.

Intangible Assets other than Goodwill

Intangible assets with finite useful lives that are acquired separately are carried at cost less accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses. Amortisation is recognised on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives. The estimated useful life and amortisation methods are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate being accounted for on a prospective basis. Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives that are acquired separately are carried at cost less accumulated impairment losses.

Development Expenditure

Research is recognised as an expense when it is incurred.

Development expenditure is recognised as an expense except that costs incurred on development projects are capitalised as long term assets to the extent that such expenditure is expected to generate economic benefits. Development expenditure is capitalised if, and only if an entity is expected to generate future economic benefits. Development expenditure is capitalised if, and only if an entity can demonstrate all of the following:

- its ability to measure reliably the expenditure attributable to the asset under development;
- the product or process is technically and commercially feasible;
- its future economic benefits are probable;
- its ability to use or sell the developed asset;
- the availability of adequate technical, financial and other resources to complete the asset under development; and
- its intention to complete the intangible asset and use and sell it.

Capitalised development expenditure is measured at cost less accumulated amortisation and impairment losses, if any. Development expenditure initially recognised as an expense is not recognised as an asset in a subsequent period.

The development expenditure is amortised on a straight line basis over a period of 3 years when products are ready for sale or use. In the event that the expected future economic benefits are no longer probable of being recovered, the development expenditure is written down to its recoverable amount.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash on hand and in banks and short term deposits are carried at face value of the amounts deposited or drawn.

Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Costs of inventories are determined on a weighted average. Net realisable value represents the estimated selling price for inventories less all estimated costs of completion and costs necessary to make the sale.

Use of Estimates and Judgements

The preparation of financial statements requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised and in any future periods affected.

Impairment of Non-Financial Assets

At end of each reporting period, the Company reviews the carrying values of its assets to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have been impaired. Where such an indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset, being the higher of the asset's fair value less costs to sell and value in use, is compared to the asset's carrying value. Any excess of the asset's carrying value over its recoverable amount is expensed to the statement of comprehensive income.

Where it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an individual asset, the Company estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs.

Comparative Figures

Where required by Accounting Standards, comparative figures have been adjusted to conform to changes in presentation for the current financial year.

Financial Assets

Financial assets are divided into the following categories:

- loans and receivables;
- financial assets at fair value through profit or loss – none of these assets held at 16 July 2014
- available-for-sale financial assets; and
- held-to-maturity investments (none of these assets held at 16 July 2014).

Financial assets are assigned to the different categories on initial recognition, depending on the characteristics of the instrument and its purpose. A financial instrument's category is relevant to the way it is measured and whether any resulting income and expenses are recognised in profit or loss or directly in equity.

Generally, the Group recognises all financial assets using settlement day accounting. An assessment of whether a financial asset is impaired is made at least at the end of each reporting period. All income and expenses relating to financial assets are recognised in the statement of comprehensive income line item "interest received" or "finance costs" respectively.

Loans and receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. They arise principally through the provision of goods and services to customers but also incorporate other types of contractual monetary assets.

After initial recognition these are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less provision for impairment. Any change in their value is recognised in profit or loss. The Group's trade and most other receivables fall into this category of financial instruments. Discounting is omitted where the effect of discounting is considered immaterial. Significant receivables are considered for impairment on a case-by-case basis when they are past due at the end of the reporting period, or when objective evidence is received that a specific counterparty will default.

Available-for-sale investments are non-derivative financial assets that are either not capable of being classified into other categories of financial assets due to their nature or they are designated as such by management. They comprise investments in the equity of other entities where there is neither a fixed maturity nor fixed or determinable payments. They are subsequently measured at fair value with any re-measurements other than impairment losses and foreign exchange gains and losses recognised in other comprehensive income. When the financial asset is derecognised, the cumulative gain or loss pertaining to that asset previously recognised in other comprehensive income is reclassified into profit or loss.

Available-for-sale financial assets are classified as non-current assets when they are expected to be sold after 12 months from the end of the reporting period. All other available-for-sale financial assets are classified as current assets.

Financial Liabilities

Financial liabilities are classified as either financial liabilities 'at fair value through profit or loss' or other financial liabilities depending on the purpose for which the liability was incurred. The Group's financial liabilities are trade and other payables, which are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate method.

Financial liabilities are recognised when the Group becomes a party to the contractual agreements of the instrument. All interest-related charges and, if applicable, changes in an instrument's fair value that are reported in profit or loss are included in the statement of comprehensive income line items, "finance costs".

Borrowings

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of qualifying assets, which are assets that necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use or sale, are added to the cost of those assets, until such time as the assets are substantially ready for their intended use or sale.

Investment income earned on the temporary investment of specific borrowings pending their expenditure on qualifying assets is deducted from the borrowing costs eligible for capitalisation.

All other borrowing costs are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they are incurred.

Translation of Foreign Currency Items

Functional & presentation currency

The functional currency of each of the Group's entities is measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which that entity operates. The pro forma statements included in this prospectus are presented in Australian dollars which is the parent entity's functional and presentation currency.

Transaction and balances

Foreign currency transactions are translated into functional currency using the exchange rates prevailing at the date of the transaction. Foreign currency monetary items are translated at the year-end exchange rate.

Non-monetary items measured at historical cost continue to be carried at the exchange rate at the date of the transaction. Non-monetary items measured at fair value are reported at the exchange rate at the date when the fair value was determined.

Exchange differences arising on the translation of monetary items are recognised in the profit or loss, except where deferred in equity as a qualifying cash flow or net investment hedge.

Exchange differences arising on the translation of non-monetary items are recognised directly in other comprehensive income to the extent that the underlying gain or loss is directly recognised in other comprehensive income; otherwise the exchange difference is recognised in the profit or loss.

Group Companies

The financial results and position of foreign operations, whose functional currency is different from the Group's presentation currency, are translated as follows:

- assets and liabilities at exchange rates prevailing at end of the reporting period;
- income and expenses are translated at average exchange rates for the period; and
- retained earnings are translated at the exchange rates prevailing at the date of the transaction.

Review conclusion on Forecast Financial Information

Based on our independent review of the Forecast Financial Information, which is not an audit, and based on an investigation of the reasonableness of the Directors' estimates and assumptions used as the basis for the prospective financial information, nothing has come to our attention which causes us to believe that:

- The Directors' estimates and assumptions do not provide a reasonable basis for the preparation of the Forecast Financial Information;
- The Forecast Financial Information was not prepared on the basis of best estimates and reasonable assumptions; and
- The Forecast Financial Information does not present fairly:
 - The Income Statement of iSentric for the month of June 2014.

7. Risk factors and investor considerations

7.1. Overview

There are a number of risks, some specific to the Company and some of a general nature, which may either individually or in combination materially and adversely affect the future operating and financial performance of the Company, its investment returns and the value of the Shares. Many of these risks are outside the control of the Company.

There can be no guarantee that the Company will achieve its objectives or that any forward looking statements or forecasts will eventuate. This Section describes the areas which the Company believes are the major risks associated with an investment in the Company.

This is not an exhaustive list and should be considered in conjunction with other information disclosed in this Prospectus. You should have regard to your own investment objectives and financial circumstances, and seek professional guidance from your stockbroker, solicitor, accountant or other independent professional adviser before deciding whether to invest.

The Company's business could be materially and adversely affected by a number of risks, including:

- (a) Counterparty risk – iSentric provides services pursuant to short term contracts, some of which can be terminated without cause. Counterparties to service contracts with iSentric may terminate those contracts or not renew those contracts which may significantly affect the revenue generation of the business.
- (b) Government - Changes in legislation and government policy in Malaysia, Australia and internationally (including taxation and monetary policies and corporation laws) could materially affect the operating results of the Company.
- (c) Geopolitical - The Company will be subject to the risks associated with operating in Malaysia. Such risks can include economic, social or political instability or change, hyperinflation, currency non-convertibility and instability and changes of law affecting foreign ownership, government participation, taxation, working conditions, exchange control, repatriation of income or return of capital, environmental protection, and labour relations.
- (d) Laws and regulations - The laws and regulations in Malaysia differ to those that exist in Australia. Laws may unexpectedly change, and could have an impact on the operational activities of the Company in Malaysia. While iSentric has operated successfully within the Malaysian legal and regulatory environment, unforeseen changes could materially impact the operating results of the Company. For example, there is a risk that the Malaysian Communications and Multimedia Commission, the regulatory body for the governance of the mobile industry in Malaysia introduces more restrictive privacy policies that could restrict advertising activities through SMS and other mobile channels. Regulation of this kind could materially impact iSentric's Enterprise Mobility Division.
- (e) Jurisdictional risk - The assets the Company is seeking to acquire are located in Malaysia and are therefore subject to different regulatory requirements than Australia. Sovereign risk may arise in the event that there are changes to any Malaysia regulatory requirements, particularly relating to ownership of shares in Malaysian companies or relating to the operation of businesses in the telecommunications' sectors in Malaysia.
- (f) Competition risk - The industry in which the Company will be involved is subject to domestic and global competition. While the Company will undertake all reasonable due diligence in its business decisions and operations, the Company will have no influence or control over the activities or actions of its competitors, which activities or actions may, positively or negatively, affect the operating and financial performance of the Company's business.

- (g) Project and technology obsolescence – iSentric’s business is technology dependent. iSentric’s business is subject to the risk of product and technology obsolescence. For example:
- (i) each piece of content (graphics, games, songs, videos, news, etc) released by iSentric’s Digital Content & Services Division has a finite lifespan in terms of its attractiveness to consumers from the moment it is introduced into the market. Once this lifespan is over, these pieces of content generally do not have any more commercial value;
 - (ii) the Enterprise Mobility Division relies in part on mobile subscription services. New technologies that work outside such services (eg. Over-The-Top communication services (like WhatsApp and Facebook Messenger) could impact the volume of SMS’ sent through iSentric’s mobility2u platform; and
 - (iii) payment through direct operator billing offered by iSentric’s Digital Payments Division could be impacted by other technologies such as mobile or virtual wallets and NFC enabled handsets.
- (h) Reliance on key personnel - Skilled employees and consultants are essential to the successful delivery of the Company’s strategy. Upon changing the nature and scale of its activities, the Company will rely to a large extent on the services of certain key management personnel, particularly certain of its Malaysian nationals who will manage day to day interactions with contractors and regulatory authorities, the loss of any of which could delay the pursuit of the Company’s strategy. The Company will not maintain key-man life insurance with respect to any of its employees.
- (i) Operating risks and insurance - the Company is currently an investor in a tin mine in Uganda, whereas iSentric operates in the mobile services sector. The risk profiles of these two activities are very different from one another. The Company’s shareholders may have bought Shares due to a preference for the existing specific risk / reward profile offered by the Company and may not want the risk / reward profile offered by an investment in iSentric.
- (j) General economic conditions - A variety of general economic and business conditions may affect the price at which Shares trade on ASX, including the level of inflation, interest rates and government fiscal, monetary and regulatory policies. Prolonged deterioration in general economic conditions, including an increase in interest rates, could also have an adverse effect on the Company.
- (k) Taxation risks - A change to the current taxation regime in Australia or Malaysia may affect the Company and its Shareholders. The Company’s subsidiaries operate in Malaysia, and are subject to the taxation laws that apply to transactions with foreign entities and the interaction of tax laws and allocation of taxes between Australia and Malaysia.
- Personal tax liabilities are the responsibility of each Shareholder. The Company is not responsible for taxation or penalties incurred by Shareholders.
- (l) Unforeseen risks - There may be other risks which the Directors are unaware of at the time of issuing this Booklet which may impact on the Company and its operations, and on the valuation and performance of the Company’s Shares.
- (m) Currency risk - Operating in Malaysia iSentric trades in Malaysian Ringgit. Any conversion and payment of profits to Australian dollars will be subject to currency exchange rate fluctuations. iSentric does not hedge these currency risks.

7.2. Risks associated with holding Shares

Shareholders will continue to be exposed to certain risks through holding Shares. These include the following:

- (a) Control and liquidity risk - At completion of the Offer, Lim Keong Yew (a New Director) may control up to 41.7% of the Company (see Section 3.3 for further details). If Lim Keong Yew controls 41.7% of the Company he will have the ability to influence the passage of ordinary resolutions (requiring 50% approval) and block special resolutions (requiring 75% approval). The voting power held by Lim Keong Yew may reduce the attractiveness of the Company to potential acquirers and cause Shares to become illiquid. Furthermore, there is no guarantee that there will be an ongoing liquid market for Shares. If illiquidity arises, there is a risk that Shareholders will be unable to realise their investment in the Company.

- (b) Investment risk - There are several types of investment risk that may affect your investment in the Company, including a decline in the market price of the Shares (the initial capital value may decrease especially if you are investing for the short term), the amount you receive as income may vary over time or the value of your investment may not keep pace with inflation. This includes the possibility that the Company may not be able to achieve the medium to long term capital growth objectives.
- (c) Economic conditions - The operating and financial performance of the Company is influenced by a variety of general economic and business conditions including the level of inflation, international share markets, interest rates and exchange rates, government fiscal, monetary and regulatory policies. A prolonged deterioration in general economic conditions, including an increase in interest rates, may have a material adverse impact on the Company's business or financial situation.
- (d) Government – Changes in government, monetary policies, taxation and other laws can have a significant influence on the outlook for companies and investor returns.

7.3. Investor Considerations

Before deciding to apply for Shares, Applicants should consider whether the Shares are a suitable investment for them.

There may be tax implications arising from the application for Shares, the receipt of dividends (both franked and unfranked) from the Company, and on the disposal of Shares. Applicants should carefully consider these tax implications and obtain their own advice from an accountant or other professional tax adviser in relation to the application of tax legislation.

If you are in doubt as to whether you should subscribe for Shares you should seek advice on the matters contained in this Prospectus from a stockbroker, solicitor, accountant or other professional adviser immediately.

8. Material Contracts

The Directors consider that the material contracts described below and elsewhere in this Prospectus are the contracts which an investor would reasonably regard as material and which investors and their professional advisers would reasonably expect to find described in this Prospectus for the purpose of making an informed assessment of the Offer.
