

ASX Announcement

7 November 2016

Global Chief Financial Officer

Reliance Worldwide Corporation Limited (ASX: RWC) is pleased to announce that it has appointed Gerry Bollman as its new Global Chief Financial Officer, based in Atlanta.

Gerry brings significant international experience and is well regarded as a CFO by the Australian investment community. He has held operational, finance and business development roles across USA, UK, Europe, Asia and Australasia.

Gerry's previous role was as the CFO of ASX listed Fletcher Building Limited, based in New Zealand. He has left Fletcher to return to the USA and join RWC. Fletcher is one of the largest companies in NZ with revenue in excess of NZ$9 billion. He previously held senior management positions with Formica Corporation (now a subsidiary of Fletcher Building) after spending seven years at the global management consultancy Booz Allen Hamilton. He holds a degree in Finance from Xavier University in Cincinnati and an MBA from the University of Michigan.

He will assume the role of Global CFO on December 5th and will be moving from his current residence in Auckland to join the Global RWC team in Atlanta.

Terry Scott, RWC's current Global CFO, is retiring after over 27 years with RWC. Terry will stay with RWC for a reasonable period to ensure a smooth transition. He will then remain as a consultant to assist the business generally as required.
