LiveTiles to launch new product: LiveTiles for SAP® Software

- LiveTiles for SAP® Software developed in direct response to strong customer demand
- New product offers integration with SAP enterprise software and applications, expanding LiveTiles' current digital experience platform
- SAP is the world's leader in enterprise application software with ~345,000 customers, including 87% of the Forbes Global 2000
- Strong demand is expected from new and existing customers

LiveTiles Limited (ASX:LVT) ("LiveTiles" or "the Company"), a global software company providing digital workplace software to the commercial, government and educational markets, is pleased to announce the upcoming launch of LiveTiles for SAP Software, scheduled for the June 2017 quarter.

Expanded LiveTiles offering

LiveTiles for SAP Software is a new product that will integrate with and surface content from SAP software and applications within LiveTiles digital environments, allowing users to view SAP data in their LiveTiles digital workplaces alongside content from Office 365, SharePoint and a wide range of third party software and applications.

LiveTiles for SAP Software will work in all LiveTiles environments, whether they are built on Microsoft Office 365, SharePoint or hosted in Microsoft Azure.

SAP is the world leader in enterprise application software. SAP's ~345,000 customers include 87% of the Forbes Global 2000; the list of the world's 2000 largest public companies.

The launch of LiveTiles for SAP Software brings LiveTiles one step closer to becoming the market-leading digital experience platform ("DXP") provider. LiveTiles' DXP offering allows organisations to seamlessly build modern experiences (e.g., digital workplaces, intranets and collaboration sites), integrate with other modern cloud-based applications (e.g., Salesforce and Dropbox) and aggregate content from well-established, deeply embedded applications such as those from SAP. LiveTiles' platform gives its customers a cost-effective, highly customisable and easy to implement DXP, which requires minimal investment in IT development.

LiveTiles has strong engagement with the enterprise market and is well positioned to capitalise on this new market with its SAP offering. LiveTiles is confident this new product will be met with strong demand from new and existing customers.

The development of LiveTiles for SAP Software is nearing completion. Priced as a separate product on a subscription basis, LiveTiles will confirm pricing details in the June quarter.

Karl Redenbach, LiveTiles co-founder and Chief Executive Officer said: "LiveTiles for SAP Software provides us with the opportunity to provide even greater value to our enterprise customers while at the same time further expanding our addressable market. We have developed LiveTiles for SAP Software in response to growing customer demand and from speaking to our customers, we anticipate this product will be met with strong interest.”

Sumal Karu, General Manager, Global Channels and General Business at SAP Australia and New Zealand said: “Every day, millions around the world work with SAP. LiveTiles for SAP Software will unlock greater collaboration and productivity for our customers by unifying content from the SAP and Microsoft platforms in a convenient and seamless manner.”

Mark Leigh, Director, Small to Midmarket Solutions & Partners at Microsoft Corporation said: “Microsoft is thrilled that LiveTiles is able to bring together the benefits of Office 365, SharePoint, Azure and SAP software through a unified digital experience.”

Alliance Agreement signed with Acclimation

Additionally, LiveTiles has signed an Alliance Agreement with leading SAP software consulting firm, Acclimation. Under the agreement, Acclimation will assist LiveTiles in deploying a series of SAP “tile packs” to integrate the LiveTiles for SAP Software platform with a customer’s SAP software and provide second and third level support to LiveTiles for SAP Software customers.

Ends.
