Margin analysis

Strong cost management, demonstrated operating leverage & continued investment in the platform

EBITDA margin growth

- Netwealth has a track record of strong cost management, scalable cost base and has demonstrated operating leverage, with an EBITDA margin improving in 1H 2018 to 50.5%.
- Continued margin improvement provided the scope to bring forward the hiring of an additional IT scrum team, enabling Netwealth to accelerate development to our core platform and maintain our leading position.
- Operating expenses will also increase in 2H due to the annual pay review cycle, seasonal marketing activity and other budgeted head count increases.
- Sales bonuses will exceed the prospectus forecast due to higher than forecast net FUA flows.

$M unless otherwise stated

- The 31 December 2017 $15.4B FUA balance exceeds the full year prospectus forecast, due to strong flows and favourable equity markets.
- Net FUA flows were $1.8B for the 1H 2018 and $4.5B for the calendar year.
- The platform revenue per account increased from $1,308 to $1,406, which reflects a larger average account size and additional ancillary revenue.
- Administration fee paying FUA % has decreased from 71.3% to 65.2% and our Platform Revenue / average FUA is 56.5bps. These reductions are driven primarily by:
 - higher proportion of inflows into wrap
 - higher value account transfers and the effect of tiered fee structure and fee caps
 - the impact of increases in FUA due to rising equity markets
- EBITDA/Average FUA had increased to 29.0bps in the 1H 2018, which shows the profitability for each dollar on the platform has improved, despite headline revenue bps decreasing.
- Managed Accounts continue to be a significant driver of our FUM growth.
- The % of FUA in cash reduced to 8.5% at 31 December. We believe this was primarily due to:
 - clients increased exposure to equities
 - increased 1H inflows into wrap which typically holder lower cash balances
- The trend since 31 December has been for a modest improvement in the total cash balance, which is currently approximately $1.4B.
