Government enhancing post-retirement phase

Retirement Income Framework

 Budget 2018

FACT SHEET 3.4
More Choices for a
Longer Life Package

Retirement Income Framework

Australians will be able to enjoy higher standards of living in retirement under the Government's new framework for retirement income. The retirement phase of the superannuation system is currently under-developed. There is limited availability and take-up of products that manage the risks people face in retirement, in particular the risk of outliving their savings. As a result, most people invest their superannuation savings in an account based pension and withdraw only legislated minimum amounts, without being aware of all the choices.

Boosting retirement income choices
The Government is developing a retirement income framework to increase flexibility and choice for retirees and help boost living standards. The framework will ensure retirees have more retirement income products to choose from and the information they need to make a choice. New Age Pension means testing rules for pooled lifetime income streams will also support innovation in retirement income products.

These steps build on changes made in the 2016-17 Budget to extend the tax exemption on superannuation earnings in the retirement phase to a wider variety of retirement income products.

Retirement income covenant
Currently there are no obligations on superannuation fund trustees to consider the retirement income needs of their members.

The Government will introduce a retirement income covenant in the Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act 1993, requiring trustees to develop a strategy that would help members achieve their retirement income objectives. This will focus the industry on providing a higher standard of living for retirees.

The covenant will require trustees to offer Comprehensive Income Products for Retirement (CIPRs): products that provide individuals income for life, no matter how long they live.

The Government is releasing a position paper for consultation shortly, outlining its proposed approach to the covenant.

A new approach to product disclosure
The Government will also formulate a new approach to retirement income product disclosure rules that will require providers to report simplified, standardised information on retirement income products.

Means testing for lifetime products
From 1 July 2019, new Age Pension means testing rules will be introduced for pooled lifetime income streams. The rules will assess a fixed 60 per cent of all pooled lifetime product payments as income, and 60 per cent of the purchase price of the product as assets until 84, or a minimum of 5 years, and then 30 per cent for the rest of the person's life.

These new rules will provide industry with the confidence and stability to develop innovative products that can help retirees manage the risk of outliving their income, while ensuring a fair and consistent means test treatment of all retirement income products. These changes also pave the way for the development of CIPRs.

Retirees will have more choice and flexibility in retirement income products to meet a wider variety of needs and to help boost their living standards.

The means testing for lifetime products measure is estimated to have a cost of $20.2 million over the forward estimates. The retirement income covenant and product disclosure framework measures have no impact on expenditure.
