MONADELPHOUS SECURES SECOND CONSTRUCTION CONTRACT AT BHP'S SOUTH FLANK PROJECT

Engineering company Monadelphous Group Limited (ASX: MND) ("Monadelphous" or "the Company") today announced it had been awarded a second construction contract, valued at $104 million, at BHP's South Flank Project in the Pilbara region of Western Australia.

The contract includes structural, mechanical, piping and electrical and instrumentation works associated with the project's inflow infrastructure, and brings the total value of work secured by Monadelphous on this project to $212 million. Work under the inflow infrastructure contract is expected to start immediately and be completed by March 2021.

Monadelphous Managing Director, Rob Velletri, said the award of a second contract at South Flank enables Monadelphous to realise efficiency synergies between the two packages of work, and underlined the strength of its long-term relationship with BHP.

"We are pleased to secure further work on this significant project and look forward to continuing our long track record of successfully working with BHP," Mr Velletri said.
