NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

NOTE 1: STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The financial report covers thedocyard Pty Ltd ("the Company"). thedocyard Pty Ltd is a proprietary limited company, incorporated and domiciled in Australia.

The financial statements were authorised for issue on 25 October 2019 by the directors of the Company. The directors have the power to amend and reissue the financial report.

The following is a summary of the material accounting policies adopted by the Company in the preparation of the financial report.

Basis of Preparation

The general purpose financial statements of the Company have been prepared in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards and Interpretations issued by the Australian Accounting Standards Board ("AASB"), as appropriate for for-profit oriented entities. These financial statements also comply with International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board ("IASB").

The accounting policies set out below have been consistently applied to all years presented.

The financial report has been prepared on an accruals basis and is based on historical costs.

New or amended Accounting Standards and Interpretations adopted

The Company has adopted all of the new or amended Australian Accounting Standards and Interpretations issued by the AASB that are mandatory for the current reporting period. The Company has also early adopted AASB 15: Revenue from Contracts with Customers and AASB 16: Leases from the period commencing 1 July 2017. For other Standards not adopted early and the impact of these on the Company please refer to Note 1(k) for further information.

Accounting Policies

(a) Income Tax

With the Company in a tax loss situation in 2018 and 2019 no income tax has been brought to account. Once profitable the income tax expense will comprise current income tax expense and deferred tax expense.

Current income tax expense charged to profit or loss is the tax payable on taxable income calculated using applicable tax rates enacted, or substantively enacted, as at the end of the reporting period. Current tax liabilities (assets) are therefore measured at the amounts expected to be paid to (recovered from) the relevant taxation authority.

Deferred tax is calculated at the tax rates that are expected to apply to the period when the asset is realised or liability is settled. Deferred tax is credited in profit or loss except where it relates to items that may be credited directly to equity, in which case the deferred tax is adjusted directly against equity.

Deferred income tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that no adverse change will occur in income taxation legislation, that the Company will derive sufficient future assessable income to enable the benefit to be realised and that the Company will continue to comply with the conditions of deductibility imposed by the law.

NOTE 1: STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)

(b) Impairment of assets

At the end of each reporting period, the Company assesses whether there is any indication that an asset may be impaired. The assessment will include the consideration of external and internal sources of information. If such an indication exists, an impairment test is carried out on the asset by comparing the recoverable amount of the asset, being the higher of the asset's fair value less costs to sell and value in use, to the asset's carrying value. Any excess of the asset's carrying value over its recoverable amount is expensed to profit or loss.

Where it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an individual asset, the Company estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs.

(c) Foreign Currency Transactions and Balances

Functional and presentation currency

The functional currency of the Company is the currency of the primary economic environment in which it operates. The financial statements are presented in Australian dollars which is the Company's functional and presentation currency.

Transaction and balances

Foreign currency transactions are translated into functional currency using the exchange rates prevailing at the dates of the transactions. Foreign currency monetary items are translated at the year-end exchange rate. Non-monetary items measured at historical cost continue to be carried at the exchange rate at the date of the transaction. Non-monetary items measured at fair value are reported at the exchange rate at the date when fair values were determined.

Exchange differences arising on the translation of monetary items are recognised in profit or loss.

Exchange differences arising on the translation of non-monetary items are recognised directly in equity to the extent that the gain or loss is directly recognised in equity, otherwise the exchange difference is recognised in profit or loss.

(d) Employee Benefits

Provision is made for the Company's liability for employee benefits arising from services rendered by employees to balance date. Employee benefits that are expected to be settled within one year have been measured at the amounts expected to be paid when the liability is settled, including related on-costs. Employee benefits payable later than one year have been measured at the present value of the estimated future cash outflows to be made for those benefits. In determining the liability, consideration is given to employee wage increases and the probability that the employee may satisfy vesting requirements. Those cash flows are discounted using market yields on national government bonds with terms to maturity that match the expected timing of cash flows.

(e) Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Company has a legal or constructive obligation, as a result of past events, for which it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will result and that outflow can be reliably measured.

(f) Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, and deposits held at call with banks.

NOTE 1: STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)

(g) Revenue and Other Income

Subscription revenue for use of the Company's platform is recognised over the period of access.

Income from research and development grants is recognised in profit or loss as income in the period in which the expenditure occurs.

All revenue is stated net of the amount of goods and services tax ("GST").

(h) Goods and Services Tax

Revenues, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of GST, except where the amount of GST incurred is not recoverable from the Australian Tax Office. In these circumstances the GST is recognised as part of the cost of acquisition of the asset or as part of an item of the expense. Receivables and payables in the statement of financial position are shown inclusive of GST.

Cash flows are presented in the statement of cash flows on a gross basis, except for the GST component of investing and financing activities, which are disclosed as operating cash flows.

(i) Comparative Figures

When required by Accounting Standards, comparative figures have been adjusted to conform to changes in presentation for the current financial year.

(j) Adoption of New and Revised Accounting Standards

As noted above, two new Australian Accounting Standards have been applied from 1 July 2017.

AASB 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers

The Company has adopted AASB 15, which replaces AASB 118 Revenue, AASB 111 Construction Contracts and several revenue related Interpretations. The Standard provides a single comprehensive model for revenue recognition. The core principle of the Standard is that an entity shall recognise revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers at an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. The Standard introduced a new contract-based revenue recognition model with a measurement approach that is based on an allocation of the transaction price. Credit risk is presented separately as an expense rather than adjusted against revenue.

The adoption of AASB 15 has not had any effect on the financial performance or position of the Company. No adjustment was required to be recognised to the opening balance of retained earnings at 1 July 2017 as a result of the adoption of AASB 15.

AASB 16 Leases

AASB 16 replaces AASB 117 Leases and some lease related Interpretations. AASB 16 requires that all leases are accounted for 'on-balance sheet' by lessees, other than short-term and low value asset leases.

The Company had no leases during the year ended 30 June 2018.

Adoption of AASB 16 has resulted in recognition of both a liability for future lease payments, and a "Right of use" asset.

NOTE 2: GOING CONCERN

Going Concern

The Company incurred a loss for the year ended 30 June 2019 of $745,263 and had cash outflows from operations for that year of $707,792, and the statement of financial position as at 30 June 2019 shows a deficiency of current assets in relation to current liabilities of $192,859 and a deficiency of net assets of $143,359. There is therefore a material uncertainty in relation to the ability of the Company to continue as a going concern.

Notwithstanding the loss for the financial year, negative cash flows and the deficiency of net assets, the financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis, which contemplates continuity of normal business activities and the realisation of assets and the discharge of liabilities in the normal course of business.

The Directors believe that there are reasonable grounds that the Company will be able to continue as a going concern, on the following bases:

- The Company has the ability to continue to raise additional funds on a timely basis. The Company has raised funds in the past and the Directors have no reason to believe that it will not be able to continue to source equity or alternative funding if required;
- If required, the Company has the ability to finance the research and development tax rebate to have access to this funding earlier. This will improve the liquidity of the Company; and
- The Company has the ability to scale back a significant portion of its development activities if required.

Accordingly, the Directors have prepared the financial report on a going concern basis.

NOTE 3: REVENUE AND OTHER INCOME

	2019 $	2018 $

- R&D Tax offsets	88,354	108,983
Total other income	88,354	430,399

NOTE 4: INCOME TAX EXPENSE

The Company did not record an income tax expense as the Company generated a taxable loss for both 2018 and 2019 and has carried forward tax losses.

As at 30 June 2019 the company had carried forward income tax losses of $830,918, the benefit of which, $228,502, will only be realised if the Company:

- earns future assessable income of a nature and an amount to enable realisation of the benefit
- the Company continues to comply with income tax law related to realisation of the benefit, and
- no changes in income tax law adversely affect the Company's entitlement to the benefit.

Dated: 25 October 2019

Independent Auditor's Report to the Members of thedocyard Pty Ltd

Opinion

We have audited the financial report of thedocyard Pty Ltd ("the Company") which comprises the statement of financial position as at 30 June 2019, the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, the statement of changes in equity and the statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies, and the directors' declaration.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial report presents fairly, in all material aspects, the financial position of the Company as at 30 June 2019, and its financial performance and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with the Australian Accounting Standards.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Report section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the auditor independence requirements of the Accounting Professional and Ethical Standards Board's APES 110 Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants ("the Code") that are relevant to our audit of the financial report in Australia. We have also fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Material Uncertainty Regarding Going Concern

We draw attention to Note 2 to the financial report, which indicates that during the year ended 30 June 2019 the Company incurred a net loss of $745,263 and had cash outflows from operations of $707,792, and as at 30 June 2019 the Company's current liabilities exceeded its current assets by $192,859 and the Company had a deficiency of net assets of $143,359. As stated in Note 2 these events or conditions, along with other matters set forth in Note 2, indicate that a material uncertainty exists that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. Our opinion is not modified in respect of this matter.

Information Other than the Financial Report and Auditor's Report

Directors are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the annual report for the year ended 30 June 2019, but does not include the financial report and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the financial report does not cover the other information and accordingly we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial report, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial report or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of Directors for the Financial Report

Directors are responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial report in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards and for such internal control as directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of the financial report that is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Liability limited by a scheme approved under Professional Standards Legislation.

In preparing the financial report, directors are responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless directors either intend to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Directors are responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

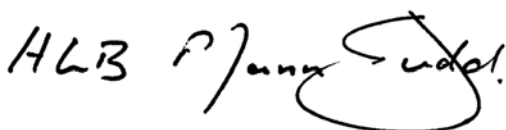

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Report

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial report as a whole is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of this financial report.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Australian Auditing Standards, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial report, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial report or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial report, including the disclosures, and whether the financial report represents the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with directors regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.
