Beam Communications Holdings Ltd (ASX: BCC) is pleased to announce that it has received its sixth order for 12,500 ZOLEO units from its joint venture (JV) entity ZOLEO Inc. to meet increasing demand from its retail channel partners.

The demand for the Beam-designed and developed unique global messaging solution is primarily coming from North America ahead of the region's Spring and Summer holiday seasons, which typically coincides with a rise in sales for outdoor equipment.

ZOLEO is carried by all the major outdoor and camping retailers in Canada and the US, including Bass Pro Shop/Cabela's, Mountain Equipment Co-op (MEC), Recreational Equipment, Inc. (REI) and London Drugs.

Beam has also noted an increase in demand for ZOLEO from its Australian retail partners recently, albeit from a modest base as compared to North America where sales have exceeded expectations, as all state borders have reopened.

Leading Australian outdoor retailer Anaconda Group has made repeat orders for ZOLEO since it started selling the device in December 2020 and Beam is in advanced stages of negotiation with another major Australian retailer to stock the device.

Shipments of this latest batch of ZOLEO devices is expected to be completed before the end of the current financial year on June 30. This will take the total number of devices shipped to around 47,000 units.

Yours faithfully,

Michael Capocchi
