ELMO remains well capitalised with $81.9 million cash on hand.

ELMO Software CEO and Co-Founder Danny Lessem said: "ELMO's growth journey continued in FY21 as we delivered on our growth strategy.

"We saw strong growth returning throughout 2H FY21 from the mid-market segment and growth accelerating in the Breathe (small business) segment. In addition, our cost ratios reduced as we saw some operating leverage come through and were also able to generate a positive EBITDA.

“In FY21, ELMO completed two significant acquisitions. The first was Breathe, a rapidly growing self-service small business HR solution. The second was Webexpenses, a market leading expense management solution for the mid-market in the UK.

“We have completed integration of the Webexpenses solution, and it is being successfully cross-sold in the ANZ region. We have also leveraged Webexpenses operational footprint in the UK to launch ELMO’s mid-market HR solution there.

“Breathe, the small business segment posted exceptional growth of 51.8%. In 2H FY21, we added modules to the Breathe suite in the UK and it’s pleasing to see strong uptake. We recently launched the Breathe solution in ANZ and expect to ramp up activities in the region during FY22.

“Returning business confidence and the increase in remote based working is driving the adoption of cloud-based business tools, including HR technology. FY22 is shaping up to be a good year for ELMO, across both mid-market and small business segments.

“We anticipate strong growth in FY22 and expect to surpass $100 million in ARR, an exciting milestone.”
