AMPOL SUCCESSFULLY PRICES A$500 MILLION SUBORDINATED NOTES

Ampol Limited (ASX:ALD) (Ampol) is pleased to announce that it has successfully priced an offering of A$500 million subordinated notes due 2081 (Subordinated Notes) to wholesale investors in the domestic fixed income market. Settlement is expected to occur on or around 2 December 2021.

Ampol believes that these Subordinated Notes are an effective long term source of capital and will form part of Ampol's ongoing capital management strategy. Net proceeds of the issue will be used for general corporate purposes and in line with Ampol's Capital Allocation Framework, which may include partly funding the acquisition of Z Energy Limited announced on 11 October 2021 (and is subject to Z Energy shareholder and New Zealand regulatory approvals).

The key terms of the Subordinated Notes are as follows:

- 60-year maturity
- interest payable quarterly at a floating rate of 3-month BBSW plus a margin of 3.40%, subject to certain deferral rights
- subordinated to Ampol's senior debt and pari passu with outstanding subordinated notes
- redeemable at par with cash by Ampol in March 2027 and on subsequent interest payment dates
- if Ampol decides not to redeem in March 2027, holders have a one-off option to convert their Subordinated Notes into Ampol ordinary shares – the number of shares will be determined on the basis of the then prevailing VWAP<sup>1</sup> less a 1% discount

The Subordinated Notes are expected to receive 50% equity credit from Moody's Investors Service, providing support to Ampol's credit rating.

Greg Barnes, Group Chief Financial Officer, said: "The transaction received strong support from investors, resulting in another successful issue following our previous subordinated notes issue in 2020. This funding serves to further diversify our capital sources and support our balance sheet, including for the proposed acquisition of Z Energy."
