RECOVERY HAS BEEN SLOWER AND MORE VARIABLE DUE TO ONGOING PANDEMIC AND WEATHER EVENTS

- The Inghams team continue to show great resilience and the ability to respond quickly and effectively to the challenges faced by the business
- 2H FY22 results have been seriously impacted by the ongoing effects of the COVID-19 Omicron outbreak, natural disasters and higher feed costs
- While employee attendance levels have improved, COVID-19 continues to affect operations and role vacancies remain elevated due to general labour shortages
- Costs remain elevated across the business, mainly driven by feed, supply chain and transport costs
- Some price increases have been achieved, and the business is actively seeking increases across the market to offset cost pressures; Wholesale pricing has recently improved from the lows earlier in 2H
- Australian operations are slowly recovering from Omicron impacts experienced early in 2H
 - WA operations impacted by Omicron – now through the worst effects; exhibited a similar pattern to Eastern states
 - Pace and pattern of recovery in eastern states has been variable due to ongoing labour shortages and impact of flooding in NSW and QLD during February/March, which affected site operations and supply chain activity
 - Production levels have significantly improved and approaching a full product range being produced
- New Zealand through the worst effects of Omicron and now in recovery stage
 - Progression and effects similar to those experienced in Australia
 - Financial impact partially mitigated by price increases and pre-emptive SKU rationalisation
- In 2H, due to processing capabilities, there has been a:
 - Volume shift from Retail to Wholesale channel
 - Product mix shift, which has had a detrimental effect on margin

EXTERNAL FEED MARKET OBSERVATIONS

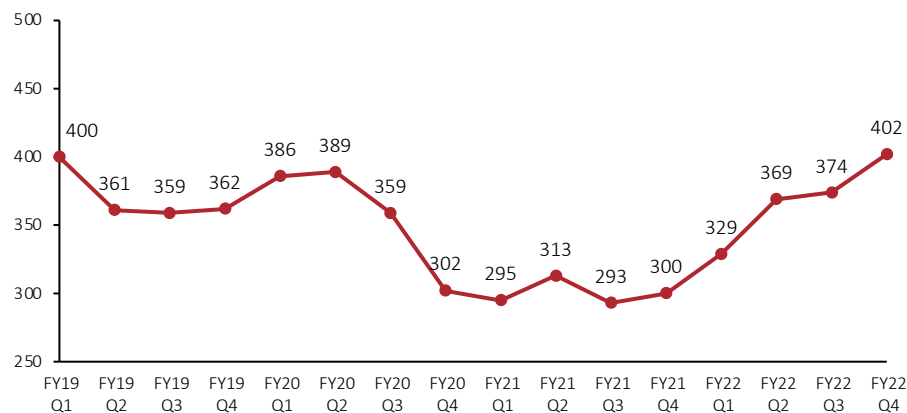

FEED COSTS HAVE INCREASED DUE TO VOLATILITY IN INTERNATIONAL MARKETS

- Delivered feed cost contains cereal grains, protein meals, vitamins and minerals. Feed cost also includes transport and milling cost
- Grain imported into New Zealand operations is purchased from the international market

Spot wheat price¹ (as observed by Ingham's)

$A per metric tonne

Spot CME² Soymeal futures

- Impact of the Ukraine / Russia conflict has added to an already tight global grain stocks situation keeping global prices at historically high levels
- Despite a large Australian wheat harvest in 2Q FY22, global demand for Australian wheat remains strong with exports at record levels
 - Domestic grain stocks anticipated to be low in 1Q FY23 and in the lead up to the new season harvest
- Production expectations for the upcoming crop are positive due to favourable planting conditions
- Soymeal prices remain elevated due to lower crop yields as a result of poor growing conditions in North and South America and higher transport costs

1. Spot prices shown above are for illustrative purposes only. Ingham's actual consumption prices will differ due to the purchase of delivered grain/soymeal as well as level of forward cover of between 3 – 9 months.
