1.12

8.6 If Item 8.5 is less than 2 quarters, please provide answers to the following questions:

1. Does the entity expect that it will continue to have the current level of net operating cash flows for the time being and, if not, why not?

Answer:

The current level of net operating cash outflows have exceeded normal levels due to a reduced amount of cash receipts, largely due to a delay in the shipment of equipment to customers as a result of supply chain delays for critical components. There are currently $US7.7 million in confirmed backlog orders being processed, that have experienced delays in shipment of final product, as a result of such critical component delivery delays.

Upon shipment of the equipment, the Company anticipates a full conversion of the order backlog into realised revenue, and recovery of outstanding cash receipts from those customers.

As reported in prior ASX announcements, the level of prior quarter inventory purchases was not reflective of the full year run rate, and the Company has a material level of parts inventory that was paid (in advance) to fund the build of new equipment ordered or likely to be ordered by customers.

2. Has the entity taken any steps, or does it propose to take any steps, to raise further cash to fund its operations and, if so, what are those steps and how likely does it believe that they will be successful?

Answer:

Given the continued delays from the prior quarter of confirmed backlog orders being processed and released (due to delays in shipments and supply chain delays for critical components) the Company is in the process of evaluating its working capital mix and realistic funding requirements over the coming financial period. The capital requirements of the Company to execute on its vision are being evaluated in conjunction with the recent new CEO appointment and business review that the new CEO will be completing over the coming weeks. The Company has a proven track record of being able to raise both equity and other forms of capital which it will do if required to support the operational requirements of the business in conjunction with the forthcoming review of its current capital structure which includes the current debt facility with SQN that was secured during the prior reporting period.

3. Does the entity expect to be able to continue its operations and to meet its business objectives and, if so, on what basis?

Answer:

Yes. The company has adequate cash for its short-term operations and is in the process of reviewing both its operations and capital mix and has a proven track record of facilitating access to capital if required to meet any operational objectives or other obligations as and when they fall due.

Notes

1. This quarterly cash flow report and the accompanying activity report provide a basis for informing the market about the entity's activities for the past quarter, how they have been financed and the effect this has had on its cash position. An entity that wishes to disclose additional information over and above the minimum required under the Listing Rules is encouraged to do so.
2. If this quarterly cash flow report has been prepared in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards, the definitions in, and provisions of, AASB 107: Statement of Cash Flows apply to this report. If this quarterly cash flow report has been prepared in accordance with other accounting standards agreed by ASX pursuant to Listing Rule 19.11A, the corresponding equivalent standard applies to this report.
3. Dividends received may be classified either as cash flows from operating activities or cash flows from investing activities, depending on the accounting policy of the entity.
4. If this report has been authorised for release to the market by your board of directors, you can insert here: "By the board". If it has been authorised for release to the market by a committee of your board of directors, you can insert here: "By the [name of board committee – eg Audit and Risk Committee]". If it has been authorised for release to the market by a disclosure committee, you can insert here: "By the Disclosure Committee".
5. If this report has been authorised for release to the market by your board of directors and you wish to hold yourself out as complying with recommendation 4.2 of the ASX Corporate Governance Council's Corporate Governance Principles and Recommendations, the board should have received a declaration from its CEO and CFO that, in their opinion, the financial records of the entity have been properly maintained, that this report complies with the appropriate accounting standards and gives a true and fair view of the cash flows of the entity, and that their opinion has been formed on the basis of a sound system of risk management and internal control which is operating effectively.
