Appointment of CFO

Healius Limited (Healius) (ASX: HLS) today announces the appointment of Mr Paul Anderson to the role of CFO following Ms Maxine Jaquet's appointment as CEO and Managing Director from 1 March 2023.

Paul is an experienced business leader who has worked at KPMG, Aussie Home Loans, Network Ten and, most recently, a media start-up company. At Network Ten Paul's tenure spanned seventeen years and included the roles of CFO, COO and CEO. Paul brings a wealth of experience in leading a customer-focused finance function, in adapting to an environment of significant digital disruption, and in balancing the competing aims of managing costs and investing for growth.

Commenting on the appointment, Maxine Jaquet, CEO-elect, stated: "I am delighted to appoint a person of Paul's calibre to the role of CFO of Healius. Arguably his greatest attribute is his experience in transformational change, shareholder engagement, restructuring and financial management, but as important are his personal values around sustainability and long-term growth. Paul will be supported by a strong finance team."

Commenting on his appointment, Paul said: "For me, it is a privilege to be appointed as the new CFO of Healius. While healthcare may seem a world away from media, there are many parallels in terms of industry transition, change management, digitisation, and growing businesses in an inflationary environment. I see this role as a great opportunity to put my skills to work and to transition to a much larger organisation in a dynamic sector. Together with Maxine and all the dedicated team, I am looking forward to helping Healius build its future to the benefit of all its stakeholders."
