Overview of the Investment Process

Investment Approach

Attributes of a high-quality company that we seek:

- Industry leadership position (or developing one)
- Unique assets that are hard to replicate
- Conservative balance sheets (low debt)
- Not unduly burdened by external risk factors
- Consistency of earnings
- Run by effective, passionate management with ownership alignment
- Have opportunities for growth

Why this matters:

- The presence of these factors drives a competitive advantage
- Which leads to high return on capital
- And allows for reinvestment opportunities to drive growth
- Which allows for market share capture – and further enhancement of leadership position
- Which combines to deliver long term shareholder value creation, which includes dividends

We seek to buy these companies when we identify long term value

ESG Components are Integrated into our Investment Framework

Approach to Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) Factors

- Assessment of ESG risk factors is an important part of our investment process as the sustainability of a business is a key input in our assessment of a company.
- As a long term investor, we seek to invest in companies that have strong governance and risk management processes, which includes consideration of environmental and social risks.
- We regularly review companies to ensure ongoing alignment with our investment framework.

Engagement with Companies

Voting on resolutions is one of the key functions that a shareholder has in ensuring better long term returns and management of investment risk:

- We conduct our own evaluation of the merits of any shareholder resolution and also take input from proxy advisors.
- We vote on all company resolutions as part of our regular engagement with companies.
- We actively engage with companies when we have concerns those resolutions are not aligned with shareholders' interests.

State of play in early 2023

Inflation outbreak

- Some temporary impacts have eased from their peak...
 - $ freight rates
 - $ European energy crisis averted due to mild winter
- ...but core inflation, particularly "sticky" in wages and rent remains elevated.

Sharp interest rate increases

- Much anticipation/hope that a cycle peak in rates is near.
- Looks clear that the era of ultra-low interest rates (free money) is over.

Slowing economic activity

- Activity has remained relatively resilient to date.
- Sentiment surveys are weak, confidence low.
- Increased caution about trading conditions in recent reporting season.

What were the themes of the recent reporting season?

Cost inflation

Cost Inflation evident –
Key manufacturing inputs, energy,
wages, freight, insurance.

Prices driving revenue

Price rises taken to maintain margins
– price a far more material revenue driver than volume.

Margin pressure building

Caution that future price rises are likely to be more impactful on volume.

Interest Costs Rising

Interest costs rising for companies with variable rate debt.

Elevated inventories

Recent supply chain constraints saw some companies securing additional inventory. An area to watch as demand potentially slows.

But well-run companies continue to invest for growth opportunities that will outlast these pressures.

Mirrabooka Relative Performance Since Inception

How are we responding to challenging market conditions?

- Portfolio decisions based on fundamentals, not economic predictions
 - forecasters are far more often wrong because circumstances change
 - we won't be able to predict, and will be late to identify, when pressures have eased
 - and the best long term investment opportunities will move sharply higher in price as they do
- Using higher interest rates (more in line with long term history) in value judgements when buying
- Staying long term in our views:
 - continuing to invest in interesting new opportunities
 - selling holdings for long term fundamental reasons, not based on short term risk

Outlook

Outlook

We are cautious due to:

- A challenged economic outlook while central banks continue to battle elevated inflation with higher interest rates
- Company valuations that remain relatively high compared to returns now available on competing investments like term deposits
- Geopolitical risk factors remain uncertain ranging from the war in Ukraine to the outlook for China

But we continue to believe in:

- ✓ The superior long term returns available from a well selected portfolio
- ✓ The ability of our diversified portfolios to weather challenging conditions
- ✓ Share prices are driven by earnings growth in the long term
