Ventia secures six-year contract with Transurban Queensland

Ventia Services Group Limited (Ventia) has secured a six-year Incident Response and Maintenance (IR&M) contract with Transurban Queensland (TQ).

TQ operates and maintains road, bridge and tunnel assets in South East Queensland, including AirportlinkM7, Clem7, Legacy Way, Inner City Bypass, Go Between Bridge and the Gateway and Logan Motorways.

Ventia has been providing services to TQ under various arrangements since 2015. Under the new contract, Ventia will expand its service delivery to TQ and provide incident response, maintenance and minor capital works to all the TQ assets.

The six-year contract is valued at approximately $35 million per annum with an option of two 2-year extensions. Ventia will commence IR&M services on the Gateway and Logan Motorways in August 2023 and the remaining TQ assets will transition in November 2023.

Ventia's Group Executive – Transport, David McPadden said the company's strong track record maintaining complex tunnel assets across Australia, along with innovation in incident response were key elements of Ventia's offering.

"Transurban is a world-leading road operator and we're pleased to continue working with TQ to keep South East Queensland moving."

"This contract is testament to the expertise and professionalism of our teams, including our incident response crews who are highly regarded and have exceptional performance on tunnel and motorway projects across the country."
