Redbubble Group receives favorable rulings from US appellate court

Redbubble Limited (ASX:RBL) announces that its US subsidiary, Redbubble Inc., received two favorable decisions from the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit in ongoing litigation commenced by Brandy Melville, also known as Y.Y.G.M. SA, and Atari Interactive, Inc., relating to alleged intellectual property infringement. This announcement follows the litigation update released to ASX on 24 June 2021.

In the Atari Interactive case, the Ninth Circuit upheld the district court's judgment in Redbubble's favor.

In the Brandy Melville case, the Ninth Circuit agreed that Redbubble cannot be held contributorily liable when third parties misuse Redbubble's service to infringe without the company's knowledge, and remanded the case to the district court to decide any remaining issues under that legal standard.

Redbubble Group CEO and Managing Director, Martin Hosking, said, "We are pleased with the Ninth Circuit's judgment. We continue to invest significantly in our processes to protect the interests of artists and rights holders on our marketplaces, and these rulings reflect our efforts. The decisions help us ensure that Redbubble can remain an open marketplace where hundreds of thousands of independent artists and designers can sell their creations."

This announcement was authorized for lodgment by Redbubble Limited's Disclosure Committee.
