SALE OF FIRST CONCENTRATES

Adriatic Metals PLC (ASX:ADT, LSE:ADT1, OTCQX:ADMLF) is pleased to announce that it has agreed a sale of on-specification grade concentrates from its world-class Vares Silver Operation, and the first shipment has left site for the Port of Plocê.

The Vares Processing Plant has been fully commissioned and is operating as expected. The plant is now producing concentrates at saleable grades of over 2,500g/t Ag and close to 50% Zn, confirming the Company's ability to produce commercial spec products.

Plant operations will continue to process higher grade feed material and ramp-up production over the coming months. Initial metal recovery rates have exceeded expectations, based on grades recorded in the stock tanks, and the processing team is working on further improvements and optimization of the plant.

Underground development rates, after reaching a record high of 250 metres of development in March, completed 256 metres in April and are well on track to exceed that amount in May, with close to 300 metres of development expected.

With increasing feed tonnage of development ore available, the processing plant will now transition to 24 hour operations in anticipation of first stopes in July and ramp up completion in Q4 this year.

Paul Cronin, Adriatic's Managing Director and CEO, commented:

"The production of saleable concentrates from the Vares Silver Operation represents a major milestone for the Company and I am very pleased with the progress made by the processing team with the plant producing concentrates with recoveries as expected."

"High silver, gold and zinc prices and low treatment charges due to a tight concentrate market are providing positive tailwinds for Adriatic's free cash flow generation, as we progress towards full production capacity in Q4 of this year."
