Reported delinquencies

1H24 commentary:

- Reserves for reported delinquencies benefitted from a lower average reserve due to mix, dwelling value appreciation and changes in the reserving basis
- Loadings in reserves introduced during COVID have been gradually released as good experience continues
- Re-delinquency reserve reduced due to cancellations and lower assumed rate of re-delinquency

Contractual service margin (CSM)

1H24 commentary:

- CSM balance down as CSM recognised exceeded the CSM added by new business and positive changes in estimates
- $141m of CSM expected to emerge over the next 12 months, excluding new business
- CSM balance relatively steady despite drop in new business due to more favourable claims outlook

1. The delinquency rate is calculated by dividing the number of reported delinquent policies insured by the number of in-force policies (excluding excess of loss insurance).

2. The cure rate is calculated by dividing the number of cures in a period by the number of delinquencies at the beginning of that period.

3. Shows the number of delinquencies and the portfolio delinquency rate, calculated by dividing the number of delinquencies by the number of policies in-force (~836k policies as at June 2024). Methodology for all periods have been readjusted to view delinquencies by latest top-up year i.e., assign delinquent policies with top-ups to their latest top-up book year rather than original underwriting book year.

Unemployment rates

Gradual increase to 4.3% by end of 2024 and 4.6% by end 2025

1H24 commentary:

- Delinquencies expected to increase gradually but strong unemployment and low effective LVRs are expected to limit extent of claims
- Claims liabilities not particularly sensitive to modest change in economic assumptions:
 - LIC changes have an immediate Income Statement impact
 - LRC changes emerge over future years as movements in PV of future cash flows are largely offset in the CSM

2. Sensitivities are present value impacts on insurance contract liabilities as at 31/12/2023, and are a 3-year shock before reversion to base case and are rounded to the nearest $5m.

Illustrative book year coverage by layer (% of PML)¹

Back book coverage by layer

- Introduction of a book year programme initiated with cover commencing 1 January 2023 and additionally at 1 January 2024, view to continue adding future book years. Placement in book year programmes is set as a % of PML, driven by new business mix and volumes
- Duration is up to 10 years from the end of the book year with a call option after seven years. From 31 December each year, the attachment point locks and the detachment (and coverage) amortises in line with APRA's 1 in 200 Net Paid Claims requirement
- 2023 book year coverage of $70m
- 2024 book year coverage of $37m

- Helia retains the first $1.20b of paid claims after which excess of loss reinsurance cover of $300m is in place
- Coverage is for one year, with an option to extend to a full term (varying between 7-10 years depending on the layer)
