

ASX Announcement

20 December 2024

Vicinity Centres exceeds its targeted $250m of asset divestments for FY25

Vicinity Centres ('Vicinity', ASX:VCX) today announced it has exchanged unconditional contracts for the divestment of three non-strategic assets, with proceeds totalling $457 million and representing a blended premium to book values of >5%.¹

Vicinity has exchanged unconditional contracts for the divestment of a 50% interest in Elizabeth City Centre in South Australia, to Nikos Property Group. The transaction extends Vicinity's strong working partnership with Nikos Property Group, with whom Vicinity already co-owns and manages Broadmeadows Central in Victoria and Colonnades in South Australia. The divestment is expected to settle on 30 June 2025.

Vicinity's CEO and Managing Director, Mr Peter Huddle said, "We are delighted to further strengthen our partnership with the Nikos Property Group and continue driving mutual value via Vicinity's expert retail property management platform. Together, the Nikos family and Vicinity share significant experience in retail property investment, and I, together with the Vicinity team, look forward to delivering the next phase of growth and sustained returns on our shared portfolio of assets."

Vicinity has also exchanged unconditional contracts for the divestment of Vicinity's 50% interest in Roselands, as well as Vicinity's 50% interest in Carlingford Court, both in New South Wales. The divestments of Roselands and Carlingford Court are expected to settle on 18 February 2025 and 1 April 2025, respectively.

Mr Huddle added, "Today's announcement demonstrates continued execution of our investment strategy, that is anchored by the curation of a stronger and more resilient retail asset portfolio, whilst preserving our strong balance sheet and credit metrics.

"With important developments in progress at Chadstone and Chatswood Chase and following the acquisition of Lakeside Joondalup in Western Australia in August 2024, we set a target of $250 million of asset divestments in FY25. Since then, we have been pleased with the level of interest in, and pricing offered for a number of our retail assets. Consequently, we have exceeded our initial divestment target by more than $200 million. On a standalone basis, the $457 million of proceeds from asset sales will reduce gearing by 230 basis points."
