ASX ANNOUNCEMENT

IMEXHS SIGNS MATERIAL NEW CONTRACT FOR HIGH COMPLEXITY RADIOLOGY SERVICES IN COLOMBIA

IMEXHS Limited (ASX: IME) (IMEXHS or the Company) is pleased to announce that it has entered into a radiology services contract with Oncolife, a leading cancer-focused healthcare provider in Colombia.

Oncolife operates a hospital in north Bogotá as its main site, with additional centres in Villavicencio and Zipaquirá. These sites are dedicated to the treatment of cancer patients and require high-complexity diagnostic procedures, including advanced radiology services.

Contract highlights

- Provision of radiology services to Oncolife's network, focused on high-complexity diagnostics for oncology patients. Services will be supported by the deployment of IMEXHS' RIS/PACS platform, patient portal, and selected AI diagnostic layers.
- Initial term of one year, commencing immediately.
- Expected to contribute approximately A$1.4 million in New Annual Recurring Revenue (NARR), which includes both radiology services and software revenue.
- Contract operates under the Company's new pricing structure implemented in 2024.

Commenting on the agreement, IMEXHS CEO Dr Germán Arango said: "We are pleased to partner with Oncolife, a respected provider of oncology care in Colombia. This agreement underscores the strength of our radiology services offering in high-complexity care, supported by our integrated software solutions and AI modules. It also demonstrates the effectiveness of our new pricing model to deliver improved profitability alongside growth."

This contract further consolidates IMEXHS's position as a leading provider of radiology services in Latin America and supports the Company's strategy of expanding high-value partnerships in specialised healthcare segments.
