Accent Resources NL has commenced a Pre-Feasibility Study. The study will build on previous exploration and metallurgical characterisation test work and will incorporate mine planning, hydrogeology (search for water), waste rock characterisation, process design and infrastructure requirements, logistics, environmental and heritage approvals and non-process infrastructure e.g. power, water and workforce accommodation. (Refer: ASX announcement 20 May 2025 Magnetite Range Project – Commencement of Pre-Feasibility Study.)

A geological field reconnaissance trip of Magnetite Range Project tenure was used to ground truth information from sources including company published reports (WAMEX), Geological Survey of Western Australia (GSWA) published geological mapping, company surface geochemical sampling and drillhole data available through open file, aeromagnetics and Google Earth satellite imagery. The field reconnaissance forms part of a regional target generation exercise that Accent is completing over the Magnetite Range portfolio. Southern Geoscience Consultants have commenced merging and modelling acquired data sets to support a multicommodity targeting exercise.

Seven new exploration tenement applications E59/2944, E59/2945, E59/2946 E59/2947, E59/2954, E59/2962, E59/2963 and three new miscellaneous licences L59/220, L59/221 and L59/222 were submitted during the reporting period. Six exploration licences and three miscellaneous licences have been granted with the exception of E59/2944 currently pending grant process. An additional miscellaneous licence L59/223 application was withdrawn. (Figure 2)

Further work planned for the next reporting period includes ongoing exploration targeting, including multielement geochemical desktop studies, field environmental and heritage surveys as required to support POW submissions, geophysical modelling finalisation. The PFS scope will continue to be delivered with work from various streams feeding into others in a normal development approach. The Company will focus activities on approvals related items and the search for water in the near to midterm. Metallurgical test work is continuing and will feed directly into flowsheet development and engineering when test work results are finalised.

The Norseman Gold Project occurs within a strongly mineralized portion of the southern Norseman-Wiluna greenstone belt and is located 5km south of the Norseman town site. (Figure 3)

A JORC 2004 Code Mineral Resource for Iron Duke and Surprise deposits of 1,039,400 tonnes @ 1.8 g/t Au for 59,500 ounces (99 percentile upper cut, 1.0 g/t Au lower cut off) was announced to the ASX on 26 November 2012. Over 70-80% of the resource is shallow, within 50m of surface.

Engagement and consultations with traditional owners regarding heritage management were progressed through the year.

WAMEX desktop review has been completed, data capture of priority historical data has commenced, a review of geology will take place upon completion of this.

A mining lease application has been submitted to consolidate one mining lease (M63/657) and 4 prospecting licenses (P63/1997; P63/2200; P63/2154 and P63/2052) together into one mining lease application. MINERAL RESOURCE AND ORE RESERVE CORPORATE GOVERNANCE

Due to the nature, stage and size of the Company's existing projects, ACS believe there would be no efficiencies gained by establishing a separate committee responsible for reviewing and monitoring the Company's processes for calculating Mineral Resources and Ore Reserves and for ensuring that the appropriate internal controls are applied to such calculations.

However, the Company ensures that data collected and utilised, and all Mineral Resource or Ore Reserve Estimations, are supervised and prepared by Competent Persons in accordance with JORC Code.

The Company will report any future Mineral Resource and Ore Reserves updates in accordance with the 2012 JORC Code.

Business risk

The Company seeks to identify and manage material risks; however, exploration is inherently uncertain. The items below are not exhaustive or ranked by significance, and actual outcomes may differ from expectations. Some risks are outside the Company's control.

a. Tenure and access risk

Applications

There is no assurance that any current or future tenement applications will be granted, or granted in full. Portions of applied areas may be excluded.

Renewal

Exploration and (if applicable) mining tenements require periodic renewal at the discretion of the relevant Western Australian authorities. Renewal conditions may include increased expenditure, work commitments and/or compulsory relinquishment. Inability to meet conditions, or the imposition of new conditions, may adversely affect operations.

Access and co-existing interests

Tenements may overlap private land, pastoral leases, Crown reserves, infrastructure corridors and other third-party interests. Access may require consents or agreements and may be delayed, restricted or refused.

b. Exploration and evaluation risk

Accent is an early-stage explorer focused on iron ore projects in Western Australia (with non-core gold interests). There is no 100% assurance of discovering economically mineable resources or converting exploration success into development and production. Geological variability, drilling outcomes, metallurgical characteristics, water and power availability, logistics and field execution in remote locations can impact results, timing and cost.

c. Environmental and regulatory compliance

Activities are subject to evolving State and Commonwealth environmental laws, regulations, approvals and rehabilitation obligations. Approval timing, conditions and compliance requirements may delay programs or increase costs. Changes in law or policy could make operations more onerous or uneconomic.

d. Native title and cultural heritage

The Company's activities may be affected by native title rights and Aboriginal cultural heritage requirements in Western Australia. Agreements, consents and heritage clearances may be required and may impose conditions or limit activities. Compensation claims and discovery of additional heritage sites may delay or restrict exploration.

e. Infrastructure, logistics and land access

Project advancement is dependent on access to suitable road, rail and port solutions, often controlled by third parties. There is no assurance that transport or export capacity will be available on acceptable terms when required. Physical remoteness, seasonal conditions and biosecurity restrictions can also affect mobilisation and fieldwork.

f. Commodity price, foreign exchange and macroeconomic risk

Project viability and valuation are sensitive to movements in iron-ore prices, by-product prices (if any), input costs, interest rates and AUD/USD exchange rates. Global steel market dynamics, particularly demand from major importing regions, may adversely impact the Company. General economic conditions and changes to royalties or taxation may also affect outcomes.

g. Permitting and approvals

Exploration and any future development require a range of permits and approvals (including land clearing and ground-disturbing activities). There is no guarantee that new permits will be granted, that renewals will be secured without delay, or that conditions will be commercially manageable.

h. Funding and liquidity

Progression of exploration and potential studies will require additional capital. There is no assurance that funding will be available when needed or on acceptable terms. Equity raisings may dilute existing holders; debt funding (if available) may include restrictive covenants. Inadequate funding could reduce the scope or pace of planned activities.

i. Counterparty, contractor and supply-chain risk

The Company relies on third-party landholders, traditional owner groups, contractors, laboratories, logistics providers and (potentially) joint-venture partners. Cost escalation, performance shortfalls, insolvency, disputes or loss of key counterparties may affect cost, schedule and quality of outcomes.

j. Reliance on key personnel

The Company's success depends on attracting and retaining experienced directors, executives and technical staff. Loss of key personnel or inability to recruit additional qualified personnel as activities expand may adversely affect the business.

A health, safety and environment way of project development is Accent priority. However field activities may carry health and safety risks, particularly in remote environments. Incidents, equipment failure, supply shortages, or public health/biosecurity events could cause injury, regulatory action, delays and additional cost.

B. Principles Used to Determine the Nature and Amount of Remuneration

The Board recognises that Accent Resources NL operates in a global environment. To prosper in this environment we must attract, motivate and retain key executive staff.

In determining competitive remuneration rates, the Board, acting in its capacity as the remuneration committee, seeks independent advice on local and international trends among comparative companies and the mining and exploration sector generally. It examines terms and conditions for employee incentive schemes benefit plans and share plans. Independent advice may be obtained to confirm that executive remuneration is in line with market practice and is reasonable in the context of Australian executive reward practices.

No remuneration consultants were utilised in the current year to determine remuneration.

Board Remuneration

Shareholders approve the maximum aggregate remuneration for Non-Executive Directors. The Board determines actual payments to directors and reviews their remuneration annually.

Performance-based Remuneration

At this stage of the Company's life cycle and being an exploration Company, there are no remuneration policies which link remuneration to Company performance. The only performance requirements relate to service conditions.

The principles supporting our remuneration policy are that:

- Reward reflects the competitive global market in which the Company operates.
- Remuneration arrangements are equitable and facilitate the development of senior management across the Company.

AASB 18 Presentation and Disclosure in Financial Statements

This standard is applicable to annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2027 and early adoption is permitted. The standard replaces AASB 101 'Presentation of Financial Statements', with many of the original disclosure requirements retained and there will be no impact on the recognition and measurement of items in the financial statements. But the standard will affect presentation and disclosure in the financial statements, including introducing five categories in the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income: operating, investing, financing, income taxes and discontinued operations. The standard introduces two mandatory sub-totals in the statement: 'Operating profit' and 'Profit before financing and income taxes'. There are also new disclosure requirements for 'management-defined performance measures', such as earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortisation ('EBITDA') or 'adjusted profit'. The standard provides enhanced guidance on grouping of information (aggregation and disaggregation), including whether to present this information in the primary financial statements or in the notes. The company will adopt this standard from 1 July 2027 and it is expected that there will be a significant change to the layout of the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income.

Finance costs

Finance costs attributable to qualifying assets are capitalised as part of the asset. All other finance costs are expensed in the period in which they are incurred.

Rounding of amounts

The company is of a kind referred to in Corporations Instrument 2016/191, issued by the Australian Securities and Investments Commission, relating to 'rounding-off'. Amounts in this report have been rounded off in accordance with that Corporations Instrument to the nearest thousand dollars, or in certain cases, the nearest dollar.

Note 2. Critical accounting judgements, estimates and assumptions

The preparation of the financial statements requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts in the financial statements. Management continually evaluates its judgements and estimates in relation to assets, liabilities, contingent liabilities, revenue and expenses. Management bases its judgements, estimates and assumptions on historical experience and on other various factors, including expectations of future events, management believes to be reasonable under the circumstances. The resulting accounting judgements and estimates will seldom equal the related actual results. The judgements, estimates and assumptions that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities (refer to the respective notes) within the next financial year are discussed below.

Exploration and Evaluation Assets

Exploration and evaluation expenditure incurred is accumulated in respect of each identifiable area of interest. These costs are carried forward in respect of an area that has not at reporting date, reached a stage which permits a reasonable assessment of the existence or otherwise of economically recoverable reserves and active and significant operations in, or relating to, the area of interest are continuing.

The recoverability of these assets depends on the Company's ability to realise their values either through future development or sale.

Share-based payment transactions

The company measures the cost of equity-settled transactions with employees by reference to the fair value of the equity instruments at the date at which they are granted. The fair value is determined by using either the Binomial or Black-Scholes model taking into account the terms and conditions upon which the instruments were granted. The accounting estimates and assumptions relating to equity-settled share-based payments would have no impact on the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next annual reporting period but may impact profit or loss and equity.

Market interest rate

AASB 9 requires all financial instruments to be measured on initial recognition at fair value. This will normally be the transaction price in a transaction between unrelated parties. If a loan is made on normal commercial terms, no specific accounting issues arise and the fair value at inception will usually equal the loan amount. Based on current loan agreements, interest rates are 2.2% - 3.5% per annum which is lower than current Company borrowing rates, which have been determined to equate to 18.4% (2024: 18.4%). As the current loan amount does not represent the fair value, the loan is split into the element that represents the below-market element of the loan and the remainder of the loan that is on market terms.

The tax rate used in the above reconciliation is the small business tax rate of 25% (2024: small business tax rate of 25%) payable by Australian corporate entities on taxable profits under Australian tax law. At 30 June 2025, legislation will keep the tax rate at the current level.

Potential deferred tax assets attributable to tax losses carried forward and temporary differences have not been brought to account because the Directors do not believe realisation of the deferred tax assets is probable. These benefits will only be obtained if:

- (i) the Company derives future assessable income of a nature and of an amount sufficient to enable the benefit from the deduction for the loss to be realised;
- (ii) the Company continue to comply with the conditions for deductibility imposed by law, and
- (iii) no changes in tax legislation adversely affect the Company in realising the benefit from the deductibility for the loss.

Accounting policy for earnings per share

Basic earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is calculated by dividing the profit attributable to the owners of Accent Resources NL, excluding any costs of servicing equity other than ordinary shares, by the weighted average number of ordinary shares outstanding during the financial year, adjusted for bonus elements in ordinary shares issued during the financial year.

Diluted earnings per share

Diluted earnings per share adjusts the figures used in the determination of basic earnings per share to take into account the after income tax effect of interest and other financing costs associated with dilutive potential ordinary shares and the weighted average number of shares assumed to have been issued for no consideration in relation to dilutive potential ordinary shares.

Accounting policy for property, plant and equipment

Plant and equipment is stated at historical cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment. Historical cost includes expenditure that is directly attributable to the acquisition of the items.

Depreciation is calculated on a straight-line basis to write off the net cost of each item of property, plant and equipment (excluding land) over their expected useful lives as follows:

Freehold Land	not depreciated
Plant and equipment	2.5 - 13.33 years
Vehicles	5 years

The residual values, useful lives and depreciation methods are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at each reporting date.

Leasehold improvements are depreciated over the unexpired period of the lease or the estimated useful life of the assets, whichever is shorter.

Accounting policy for right-of-use assets

A right-of-use asset is recognised at the commencement date of a lease. The right-of-use asset is measured at cost, which comprises the initial amount of the lease liability, adjusted for, as applicable, any lease payments made at or before the commencement date net of any lease incentives received, any initial direct costs incurred, and, except where included in the cost of inventories, an estimate of costs expected to be incurred for dismantling and removing the underlying asset, and restoring the site or asset.

Right-of-use assets are depreciated on a straight-line basis over the unexpired period of the lease or the estimated useful life of the asset, whichever is the shorter. Where the company expects to obtain ownership of the leased asset at the end of the lease term, the depreciation is over its estimated useful life. Right-of use assets are subject to impairment or adjusted for any remeasurement of lease liabilities. Depreciation is calculated as follows:

Right-of-use assets that meet the definition of investment property are measured at fair value where the company has adopted a fair value measurement basis for investment property assets.

The company has elected not to recognise a right-of-use asset and corresponding lease liability for short-term leases with terms of 12 months or less and leases of low-value assets. Lease payments on these assets are expensed to profit or loss as incurred.

Note 10. Exploration and evaluation

The Company continues to hold tenure on all tenements.

Accounting policy for exploration and evaluation assets

Exploration and evaluation expenditure in relation to separate areas of interest for which rights of tenure are current is carried forward as an asset in the statement of financial position where it is expected that the expenditure will be recovered through the successful development and exploitation of an area of interest, or by its sale; or exploration activities are continuing in an area and activities have not reached a stage which permits a reasonable estimate of the existence or otherwise of economically recoverable reserves. Where a project or an area of interest has been abandoned, the expenditure incurred thereon is written off in the year in which the decision is made.

The above loans are unsecured and subject to interest which accrues six monthly and is payable along with the principal at maturity.

Accounting policy for borrowings

Loans and borrowings are initially recognised at the fair value of the consideration received, net of transaction costs. They are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

Shareholder contribution

Loans received from related parties at concessional or zero interest rates are initially recognised at their fair value. Fair value is determined as the present value of the future contractual cash flows discounted using their effective interest rate. Any difference between the fair value determined on initial recognition and the amount borrowed is recognised as a shareholder contribution in equity. Such amounts are not re-measured in subsequent reporting periods.

On 1 July 2020, the Company entered into a 5-year lease to rent property with its related party. The current rent is $50,220 per year. There are no termination options on the lease. There are options to extend the lease for another 5 years. Given the long term outlook, the lease calculations have been based on an additional 2 terms being taken up. There are 10 years left on the remaining period.

Accounting policy for lease liabilities

A lease liability is recognised at the commencement date of a lease. The lease liability is initially recognised at the present value of the lease payments to be made over the term of the lease, discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease or, if that rate cannot be readily determined, the company's incremental borrowing rate. Lease payments comprise of fixed payments less any lease incentives receivable, variable lease payments that depend on an index or a rate, amounts expected to be paid under residual value guarantees, exercise price of a purchase option when the exercise of the option is reasonably certain to occur, and any anticipated termination penalties. The variable lease payments that do not depend on an index or a rate are expensed in the period in which they are incurred.

Lease liabilities are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. The carrying amounts are remeasured if there is a change in the following: future lease payments arising from a change in an index or a rate used; residual guarantee; lease term; certainty of a purchase option and termination penalties. When a lease liability is remeasured, an adjustment is made to the corresponding right-of use asset, or to profit or loss if the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset is fully written down.

Short-term employee benefits

Liabilities for wages and salaries, including non-monetary benefits, annual leave, long service leave and accumulating sick leave expected to be settled wholly within 12 months of the reporting date are measured at the amounts expected to be paid when the liabilities are settled. Non-accumulating sick leave is expensed to profit or loss when incurred.

Rich Mark Development (Group) Pty Ltd and Xingang Resources (HK) Ltd, elected to relinquish the option to convert to shares and as such the convertible notes issued were redeemed in cash at 31 December 2024 upon its expiry date.

Accounting policy for convertible note

Compound financial instruments issued by the Company comprise convertible notes denominated in Australian dollar that can be converted to ordinary shares at the option of the holder, when the number of shares to be issued is fixed and does not vary with the changes in fair value.

The liability component of the compound financial instrument is initially recognised at the fair value of a similar liability that does not have an equity conversion option. The equity component is initially recognised at the difference between the fair value of the compound financial instrument as a whole and the fair value of the liability component. Any directly attributable transaction costs are allocated to the liability and equity components in proportion to their initial carrying amounts.

Subsequent to initial recognition, the liability component of a compound financial instrument is measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. The equity component of a compound financial instrument is not remeasured.

On conversion of a convertible instrument, the Company derecognises the liability component and recognises it as issued capital. The equity component remains as equity until conversion, in which case the balance is transferred to issued capital. Where the conversion option remains unexercised at the maturity date, the balance recognised in equity will be transferred to retained earnings. There is no gain or loss on conversion upon conversion or expiration of the conversion option.

Ordinary shares

Ordinary shares entitle the holder to participate in dividends and the proceeds on the winding up of the company in proportion to the number of and amounts paid on the shares held. The fully paid ordinary shares have no par value and the company does not have a limited amount of authorised capital.

On a show of hands every member present at a meeting in person or by proxy shall have one vote and upon a poll each share shall have one vote.

On 30 June 2025, the Company issued 16,410,000 at $nil consideration related to the previously issued performance rights granted to key management personnel and other employees. The performance rights have been fully vested, for details refer to (note 19).

Capital Risk Management

The Company's objectives when managing capital are to safeguard their ability to continue as a going concern, so that they may continue to provide returns for shareholders and benefits for other stakeholders.

Due to the nature of the Company's activities, being mineral exploration, the Company does not have ready access to credit facilities, with the primary source of funding being equity raisings. Therefore, the focus of the Company's capital risk management is the current working capital position against the requirements of the Company to meet exploration programs and corporate overheads. The Company's strategy is to ensure appropriate liquidity is maintained to meet anticipated operating requirements, with a view to initiating appropriate capital raisings as required. The working capital position of the Company at year end are as follows:

	2025 $'000	2024 $'000

During the year, the previously issued performance rights were fully vested, and the holder of the rights have exercised them to obtain ordinary shares of the Company. The share-based payment reserve was reclassified to accumulated losses upon issuing of the shares. The details of the performance rights are disclosed below.

Performance rights

The Company's Performance Rights Plan has made awards to the Executive Chairman, Company Directors, employees and consultants during the year. This plan focuses efforts on longer-term performance achievement with a focus on relative shareholder returns to support the creation of sustainable long-term shareholder value.

Participants are awarded performance rights, which may convert into ACS shares on a one-for-one basis. The rights granted may vest after 12 months and 36 months as the end of a performance period. These rights are not subject to the satisfaction of any other performance measures. The Performance Rights are accounted as an equity settled share based payment.

The following table provides details of outstanding awards of performance rights granted under this award.

The Performance Rights are granted for $nil consideration, and as such, no funds will be raised from the issue of the Performance Rights. The performance rights vest at the end of 12 months of the grant date. In case of a good leaver, the PRs will immediately vest on cessation of employment and in case of a bad leaver, the PRs will be immediately lapsed and forfeited.

Post vesting restrictions apply as below:

- on all of the Performance Rights granted to all Director participants for a period of the latter of 12 months from the date of grant and the first available trading period after 12 months from the date of grant;
- on two-thirds of the Performance Rights granted to Director participants for a period of the latter of 24 months from the date of grant and the first available trading period after 24 months from the date of grant; and
- on one-third of the Performance Rights granted to Director participants for a period of the latter of 36 months from the date of grant and the first available trading period after 36 months from the date of grant.

The fair value of the performance right is determined share price of $0.008 at the grant date for both key management personnel and other recipients. The probability of the vesting is estimated to be 100%. No adjustment is made for the dividends expected to be paid during the vesting period since the employees are not eligible to receive dividends as the company does not expect to declare dividend in the vesting period.

The fair value at the grant date was $0.055 for the share price at grant date for key management personnel and $0.056 for other recipients.

Accounting policy for share-based payments

Equity-settled share-based payments to employees and other providing similar services are measured at the fair value of the equity instruments at the grant date. The fair value excludes the effect of non-market-based vesting conditions.

The fair value determined at the grant date of the equity-settled share-based payments is expensed on a straight-line basis over the vesting period, based on the Company's estimate of the number of equity instruments that will eventually vest. At each reporting date, the Company revises its estimate of the number of equity instruments expected to vest as a result of the effect of non-market-based vesting conditions. The impact of the revision of the original estimate, if any, is recognised in profit of loss such that the cumulative expense reflects the revised estimate, with a corresponding adjustment to reserves.

Note 21. Commitments and contingent liabilities

Tenement expenditure commitments

The Company is required to maintain current rights of tenure to tenements, which require outlays of expenditure in 2024/2025. Under certain circumstances these commitments are subject to the possibility of adjustment to the amount and/or timing of such obligations, however, they are expected to be fulfilled in the normal course of operations.

	2025 $'000	2024 $'000
The Company also has tenement rental and expenditure commitments of, payable:
Within one year	776	588
One to five years	2,551	2,102
More than five years	5,075	4,517
	8,402	7,207

Contingencies

It is possible that native title, as defined in the Native Title Act 1993, might exist over land in which the Company has an interest. It is not possible at this stage to quantify the impact (if any) that the existence of native title may have on the operations of the Company. The Directors are aware that applications for native title claims have been accepted by the Native Title Tribunal over tenements held by the Company.

Note 27. Financial instruments

(a) Financial Risk Management

The Company's financial assets and liabilities consist mainly of deposits with banks and accounts and related party borrowings.

The main purpose of non-derivative financial assets and liabilities is to raise finance for the Company's operations.

Derivatives are not currently used by the Company for hedging purposes. The Company does not speculate in the trading of derivative instruments.

Treasury Risk Management

The Board of the Company meets on a regular basis to analyse interest rate exposure and to evaluate treasury management strategies in the context of the most recent economic conditions and forecasts.

Financial Risks

The main risks the Company is exposed to through its financial assets and liabilities are interest rate risk, liquidity risk and credit risk.

Interest Rate Risk

The Company does not have any debt that may be affected by interest rate risk as the loan and convertible notes from the parent entity and loans from other shareholders are at a fixed interest rate. The Company seeks to utilise fixed interest rate products to assist in managing its deposit funds and is subject to interest rate risk as detailed below in sensitivity analysis.

Sensitivity Analysis

At 30 June 2025, if interest rates had changed by +/- 100 basis points from the weighted average rate for the year with all other variables held constant, post-tax loss for Company would have been $107,000 lower/higher (2024: $85,000 lower/higher) as a result of lower/higher interest income from cash and cash equivalents.

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk arises from the possibility that the Company may encounter difficulty in settling its debts or otherwise meeting its financial obligations related to financial liabilities. The Company manages liquidity risk by monitoring forecast cash flows.

There are no assets or liabilities that have a maturity date greater than five years.

Credit Risk

The maximum exposure to credit risk, excluding the value of any collateral or other security, at reporting date to recognized financial assets, is the carrying amount, net of any provisions for impairment of those assets, as disclosed in the Statement of Financial Position and notes to the financial statements.

Credit risk on liquid funds is limited because counter parties are banks with high credit rating.

The Company does not have any material credit risk exposure to any single receivable or group of receivables under financial assets entered into by the economic entity.

Price Risk

The Company is not exposed to any significant price risk.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgement, were of most significance in our audit of the financial report of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the financial report as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key Audit Matter	How our audit addressed this matter
Exploration and Evaluation Assets Refer to Note 10 in the financial statements
The Company has capitalised exploration and evaluation assets of $15,655,000 as at 30 June 2025. We considered this to be a key audit matter due to the significant management judgments involved in assessing the carrying value in accordance with AASB 6 Exploration for and Evaluation of Mineral Resources, including: • Determining whether the expenditure can be associated with finding specific mineral resources, and the basis on which that expenditure is allocated to an area of interest; • Assessing whether exploration activities have reached a stage at which the existence of economically recoverable reserves may be determined; and • Assessing whether any indicators of impairment are present and, if so, the judgements applied to determine and quantify any impairment loss.	Our audit procedures included: • Assessing the Company's accounting policy for compliance with Australian Accounting Standards; • Testing, on a sample basis, the rights to tenure of the areas of interest are current; • Testing, on a sample basis, additions to supporting documentation and assessing whether the amounts capitalised during the year are in compliance with the Company's accounting policy and relate to the area of interest; • Assessing and evaluating management's assessment of whether indicators of impairment existed at the reporting date; • Enquiring with management and reading budgets and other documentation as evidence that active and significant operations in, or relation to, the area of interest will be continued in the future; • Assessing management's determination that exploration activities have not yet progressed to the stage where the existence or otherwise of economically recoverable reserves may be determined; and • Assessing the disclosures in the financial statements.

Key Audit Matter	How our audit addressed this matter
Borrowings Refer to Note 12 in the financial statements
The Company has borrowings of $21,724,000 as at 30 June 2025. We considered this to be a key audit matter as it is the most significant balance on the statement of financial position and the judgments made by management include: - Examining the nature of the borrowings and application of accounting standards to determine the fair value at inception date; and - Determining whether the effective interest rate used is appropriate.	Our audit procedures included: - Assessing the Company's accounting policy for compliance with Australian Accounting Standards; - Obtaining an understanding of the terms and conditions of the agreements; - Testing the completeness of the borrowings outstanding, including confirmation of balances with lenders at the reporting date; - Evaluating the appropriateness of management's valuation methodology applied to determine the fair value of the borrowings at inception date; - Testing the key inputs used in the valuation model; - Assessing the appropriateness of the effective interest rate used; - Checking the mathematical accuracy of the unwinding interest calculation; - Agreeing the funds received to bank statements; and - Assessing the disclosures in the financial statements.

Other Information

The directors are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Company's annual report for the year ended 30 June 2025, but does not include the financial report and the auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the financial report does not cover the other information and accordingly we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial report, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial report or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of the Directors for the Financial Report

The directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation of the financial report that gives a true and fair view in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards and the Corporations Act 2001 and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of the financial report that gives a true and fair view and is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial report, the directors are responsible for assessing the ability of the Company to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors either intend to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Report

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial report as a whole is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Australian Auditing Standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of this financial report.

A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the financial report is located at the Auditing and Assurance Standards Board website at: https://www.auasb.gov.au/admin/file/content102/c3/ar2_2020.pdf. This description forms part of our auditor's report.
