Operating Outlook

- Cattle sales being largely executed in H1 allows for improved operational focus and efficiency over the remainder of year.
- Customers are facing challenges in foodservice, which may impact global dynamics for our premium beef sales across key high-value markets. Our global distribution network, strong demand and continuity of supply positions us well to manage external market pressures.
- Productivity efficiencies and cost management focus remains, to mitigate potential impacts of inflation.
- Nature-led programs including our sustainable stocking strategy have contributed to property condition resilience, positioning them well for potential seasonal variability.
- Global trade policy and the flow of beef supply continues to be dynamic and uncertain, with conditions being monitored to capitalise on opportunities.
- Our strong balance sheet provides the capacity to continue to execute on our strategic intentions.

Closing Remarks

Questions

Definitions

Cost of Goods Sold (COGS) valued “at cost”	Represents the actual production cost the Company incurred over the multi-year timeline required to produce the beef and cattle that were sold during the period. This is in contrast to Cost of Goods Sold as presented in the statutory financial statements, which instead uses the fair value (less costs to sell) of the cattle sold live or used in the production of sold beef. As Fair Value is a market-based measurement and is not entity-specific, Management believe that profit measures using actual costs incurred to calculate COGS, more accurately reflect entity performance than profit measures which use Fair Value to determine COGS.
Cost of production	Total production costs incurred during the period throughout the breeding, backgrounding and feedlot operations of the Company, divided by the number of total live weight kilograms of cattle produced during the period.
Operating Profit	The measure of Operating Profit is a key indicator which is used to monitor and manage the Company and represents an adjusted statutory EBITDA. Operating profit is a key measure of profitability for AACo which removes unrealised livestock mark-to-market fluctuations, foreign exchange movements, and market-based LTI expenses from the statutory profit result, and measures cost of goods sold using production costs rather than fair value.
Free Cash Flow	Free Cash Flow represents net operating and investing cashflows as presented in the cashflow statement, as well as principal repayments of leases included within net financing cashflows.
Fair Value	Fair value, as defined by AASB 13 Fair Value Measurement , is an accounting measurement which represents the amount that would be received to sell an asset in an orderly transaction.
Fair Value changes in Livestock	Fair Value changes in Livestock (less costs to sell) occur through changes in market pricing and quantity or composition changes in the herd due to growth, attrition, natural increase, beef transfers, purchases or sales. All changes to the livestock balance are recorded as fair-value gains or losses in the statutory statement of profit or loss in accordance with AASB 141 Biological Assets and AASB 13 Fair Value Measurement, and can represent both realised (in the case of quantity movements) and unrealised gains/losses (in the case of market price movements).
Price/mix	Combination of in-market price changes, mix of product and marble score sold, and mix of markets.
Unrealised Mark-to-Market (MTM) of herd	Represents only the market price component of fair value changes of livestock. This value is calculated by referencing the change in market pricing from the close of the previous period, to the close of the reported period. This price difference is then applied against the quantities represented in the closing herd. This solely represents the impacts of changes in market prices on the value of the closing herd and is therefore an unrealised gain or loss. Fair value changes driven by changes in the herd size and composition, are not included in this number.
Cost vs Fair Value: kgs sold or produced	Represents the difference between beef and cattle COGS, as well as attrition measured at Fair Value vs actual cost to produce.
Statutory EBITDA	Statutory EBITDA is unaudited, non-IFRS financial information and represents earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortisation, and gain/loss on equity investments.
Kg LW	Kilograms Live Weight
Kg CW	Kilograms Carton Weight
PCP	Prior Comparative Period
NTA	Net Tangible Assets
