BOARD RENEWAL – ASX BOARD EXTENDS TECHNOLOGY EXPERTISE WITH NEW DIRECTOR APPOINTMENT

ASX Limited (ASX) Chair David Clarke welcomes Dee McGrath as a new non-executive director to the ASX Board today.

Ms McGrath brings over 30 years' experience in business, technology and financial services globally. She has a strong track record of leading major technology projects and large-scale transformations across various industries, both as an executive and board member.

Ms McGrath has a deep understanding of how customer value can be realised through technology change, and her experience will bolster the Board's capabilities in this area.

Mr Clarke said: "On behalf of the Board, I am pleased to welcome Dee to ASX. Her proven ability to lead businesses through complex transformations, manage regulatory demands, and her strong background in governance and risk management of technology projects and cyber will be highly valuable to ASX at a critical time of change.

During her executive career, Ms McGrath has successfully led complex technology projects including large scale digital and platform transformations across Asia Pacific, a new payments platform for HP Services, and the launch of distributed ledger technology for IBM across the region.

She is currently a director of Revolut Australia and health insurer, GMHBA Limited.

Ms McGrath's appointment continues ASX's ongoing Board renewal. Today's announcement follows the appointment of Anne Loveridge AM as non-executive director on the ASX Board in July 2025 and the appointment of John Cincotta as a non-ASX director on ASX's Clearing and Settlement Boards in October 2025.
