ASX ANNOUNCEMENT

BUSINESS UPDATE - WEATHER EVENT

Select Harvests Limited (ASX:SHV) ('the Company') today provides an update on the recent heavy rainfall that has impacted the Company's orchards across the Riverland, South Australia and Sunraysia, Victoria and southern NSW.

The Company's Riverland and Sunraysia orchards have been subject to rain over the past week, culminating over the weekend of 28 February 2026 – 1 March 2026. In preparation for the rain, the Company ceased harvesting activities at the impacted orchards and moved equipment and personnel to our Riverina, NSW orchards to accelerate harvesting in what has remained predominately dry conditions. With dry conditions now forecast across the remaining orchards and as conditions improve, harvest will recommence.

As the affected crop has yet to be harvested or processed, it is premature to assess potential impacts on yield or quality. The Company will provide an update to the market with the release of its half-year results.

The Company is more capable than ever before to process the crop under these conditions, owing to the successful installation and operation of higher capacity drying facilities at Carina West. With external growers facing the same conditions, we have also seen additional interest from external growers wanting to access our drying capacity and have the Company process their crop.

It should be noted if there is any impact it is only in relation to the 2026 crop and the Company expects no impact on future years.

Authorised for release by the Board of Select Harvests Limited.
